The Newton Constabulary Band was commanded by John McLellan, and followed by J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Veterans, George R. ## WINS CONTEST

Miss Edna Gaw awarded prize in Beauty Contest at West Newton

Miss Edna Gaw of Cherry street, West Newton, won the beauty contest at the Newton Catholic Club last Monday. She is the first "Miss West Newton" to be chosen from among the girls of Newton.

The contest was held as a part of an entertainment in the Newton Catholic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Devoy's Band of Workers for the St. Bernard's field day. The judges of the contest were Thomas Lyons, Thomas Donovan, Hugh Fogwill and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Heinlein of Natick.

The committee in charge included Miss Sarah O'Brien, chairman; Miss Mary Harney, Miss Helen Ryan, Miss Mildred Doirant, Miss Agnes Shinick, Miss Sarah Harney.

Miss May White gave a reading. Several of her pupils, including Miss Elizabeth Cronin and Miss Katherine Curran, also gave readings. Walter Kearns of Newtonville sang a solo, as did Miss Mildred Doirant.

Mrs. John O'Brien, Mrs. John L. Gallagher and Mrs. Thomas Lyons were the patrons.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Favored in Report of High School Masters Club

As a result of the study made by a committee of the High School "Masters Club" of Massachusetts the following definition was suggested as containing the essential elements of the junior high school:—

A junior high school means a grouping of Grades VII and VIII, or of VII, VI, and IX, to form a new educational unit in which there shall be some freedom in choice of studies by the pupils, a considerable change in the traditional content of the subjects and methods of instruction, departmental teaching, promotion by subject and pre-vocational work.

The main arguments submitted by the committee in favor of the junior high school may be summarized as follows:—

1. The aptitudes and abilities of the pupils are more easily discovered and provided for, owing to the greater freedom in choice of work.

2. "The uncertainty of the pupil

UNION PICNIC

Planned by Newton Centre Sunday Schools on June 10th

On Thursday afternoon, June 10th, the Newton Centre Sunday Schools will hold their second annual Union Picnic at Riverside Recreation grounds.

Following the plan of last year, the Committee in charge have divided the afternoon into three different periods. Period one, will consist of base ball games for boys, base ball for girls, volley ball and dodge ball for girls, and a tennis tournament. Period two, will be a circus put on by the boys who will manage the animals. The committee has arranged to hire from some circus friends a trained monkey, an elephant, a bear, several monkeys, a strong man, and a troop of clowns. Period three will consist of water sports in the outdoor swimming pool. This period proved to be the most popular of the day last year and special attention will be given to it this year.

Arrangements are being made with the railroad company for transportation to Riverside on the train leaving Newton Centre at 1:46 P.M. (Daylight Saving Time) and returning

FINE EXHIBITION

Of Work being done at the Newton Vocational High School

No one could take even a cursory glance at the exhibition of the work of the Vocational High School on Tuesday evening without realizing the tremendous advance which has been made in the last 25 years in education.

In the basement were the machine shops in which were installed the very latest machines, and in the rear of the building the electric and automobile shop. Drafting, pattern and cabinet making are among the subjects taught. Many of the chairs and desks in the rooms are made in the basement.

On the first floor the Linotype and printing rooms attracted the most attention, though other rooms were devoted to Civics and Mathematics.

On the second floor, the sewing and dressmaking rooms were a constant source of fascination. Here were dainty evening gowns, of many colors and materials, and several exquisite graduation gowns charming in their simplicity and virgin whiteness. On each group was a tag showing the

"SUMMER TIME"

Newton Amateur Opera Association Scores a Success at West Newton

The Newton Amateur Opera Co. gave four performances last week of the operetta, "Summertime" under the direction of Mr. William G. Hambleton and Mr. George V. C. Lord assisted by Kendrick's orchestra of Boston.

The scene of the operetta was laid on a farm in the Catskills where a certain impious young man had gone to escape from his debtors, and have a jolly good time during his uncle's absence. The plot is complicated by the sudden appearance of the uncle and his insistence upon his nephew's marriage as a condition of leaving him a goodly sum of money.

The impious young man was played by Mr. Edwin F. Leighton and the uncle by Mr. Daniel L. Smith. Much of the fun was caused by "Clutch Finney," a typical New York Chauffer admirably acted by Mr. Francis W. Sprague. The part of the sweetheart who finally saves the situation, was taken by Miss Jennie M. Sears.

The stage setting was very effective having a genuine rustic touch, and the guests, farm hands, chauffeurs, and farmettes admirably fitted their backgrounds.

Throughout its two acts, the operetta was full of catchy, lively melodies. Among the most popular of the numbers was the "Moon Song." Lighting and costumes added to the effect of this number, and the Moon Fairy, Marjorie Clark, made a decided hit when she came down from the moon and declared, "It won't be anybody's moon but mine."

Other effective numbers by the chorus were "Chauffeurs" and "If I were a Millionaire." Miss Sears and Mr. Leighton won much applause by their duet "The Voice that I Love Best."

HORSE SHOW

Annual Event at Chestnut Hill a most Successful Affair

The annual Chestnut Hill horse show was staged in the open-air ring near the clubhouse on Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill Monday, with a crowded gallery. The committee ran off a long program in record time.

The Liggett horses were well to the front in the awards, annexing 15 ribbons, several of which were of the first order. Miss Janice Liggett and her younger sister, Lorraine, shared the honors in riding and driving. The woodland stables (Andrew Adie's horses) also did well in the awards, being a close second to Liggett, with 12 ribbons. Mr. Adie's daughters, the Misses Andrews and Rosamond, rode and drove in several good classes.

The Misses Sally and Elizabeth Sprague were among the winners of several ribbons, Mrs. Homer Loring, Mrs. Henry Knott, Mr. and Mrs. George S. West, Charles C. Beebe, Elmer Jared Bliss, Jr., being among others.

There were four jumping classes on the day's card and a large field of horses was sent over the jumps by the young riders. The last class of the day, a jumping class, brought 24 horses into the ring and there was some keen competition and excellent jumping. Edwin S. Webster, Jr., on his chestnut gelding Decoration, gave a wonderful exhibition but was forced to take extra jumps before he was awarded the blue ribbon by beating out Onyx, a Norfolk Hunt Club entry shown by William Rice. The yellow ribbon was given to the Norfolk Hunt Club's entry Barrister, shown by William Norton, while the white ribbon went to E. S. Webster, Jr.'s other entry, Senator.

THE BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY CO.

The Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company are undertaking a vigorous campaign to prevent boys from stealing rides on the cars. Probably few persons realize the dangers of stealing rides on cars, automobiles and teams. Not long ago four boys stealing a ride on the left hand rear step of a car were struck by a car coming in the opposite direction. Two of the boys were killed and one was seriously injured. There have been many other accidents to children stealing rides on the cars. There were 47 in the year 1919 and 50 in the year 1918.

A short time ago representatives of the Police Departments of the various cities and towns in the Metropolitan District and representatives of the Company met in conference and measures were discussed to prevent stealing rides on cars, teams and automobiles. A folder has been prepared for issue to teachers and pupils in public and private schools, boy and girl scouts, boys' clubs, Y. M. C. A. judges of juvenile courts and for distribution to all members of the Police Department and to all employees of the Elevated Company engaged in car and train service.

Letters have been written to the Supt. of Schools in each city and town to enlist the co-operation of teachers and get them to give out the folders to pupils and to take the time necessary to explain to pupils how dangerous it is to steal rides on cars or vehicles and to warn them that the police are going to take active measures to prevent it even to the extent of arrest if necessary.

The Trustees will be very sorry to cause the arrest of children on this account but feel that the practice of stealing rides must be stopped and that arrests are necessary if the practice cannot be stopped in any other manner. The children are being given ample warning. This will be followed up by the police. No further action will be taken until Monday, June 7, 1920. On and after that date conductors and motormen will take the names and addresses of any child stealing a ride on the cars and these names will be forwarded to the police for their action.

Parents are urged to sit down and talk with the children and explain the dangers of stealing rides on cars, teams and automobiles which have caused so many serious accidents, such as fractured skull, broken arm, broken leg and even crippled for life. It is necessary not only to forbid the practice but also to educate the children so that they will see the dangers for themselves.

This action is not taken by the Company for the sake of saving expense, although it is essential to reduce all expense to a minimum, but in an earnest endeavor to safeguard the children of the community and reduce in every possible way such accidents to these little ones with their terrible results in suffering and loss of life and limb.

June 1, 1920.

THE MALNOURISHED CHILD

The Central Council of Social Activities of Newton extends an invitation to all to an important lecture by Dr. William R. P. Emerson of Boston on his fascinating subject: "The Malnourished Child."

This lecture will be held Tuesday, June 8th, at 4 P. M. at the Technical High School, Newtonville.

It will give many parents an opportunity to learn the fundamental causes of malnutrition, and valuable methods of treatment. Doctors, teachers, nurses, and social workers should also be interested.

Next Tuesday afternoon at the Technical High at 4 P. M.

Concert at the Hunnewell Club

A concert was given at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday evening by three well-known artists: Mr. Walter F. Greenwood of Pembroke street, Newton, Miss Olga Cappuccio of Boston, and Miss Jessie Lovell Fleming of Boston.

The trio was chosen with the greatest care in order to secure a variety in the entertainment which included vocal selections, violin selections, and piano selections.

Miss Fleming, pianist, rendered her selections with grace and finish. Mr. Greenwood sang with power and evident understanding; and Miss Cappuccio's violin playing was marked by dash, spontaneity, and faultless technique.

Among the most popular of the selections were MacDowell's "Water-Lily," by Miss Fleming; "Mazurka de Concert," Kreisler's "Old Refrain," and "The Souvenir," by Miss Cappuccio; "The Volga Boatman's Song," "Invictus," and "The Wreck of the 'Julia Plant,'" by Mr. Greenwood. The latter was of the nature of a dramatic, musical recital.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION AT ELIOT CHURCH MAY 23rd

The Second Annual Festival of the Norumbega District Sunday School was held on Sunday, May 23rd, at Eliot Church, Newton. More than 2,000 were present representing the towns of Belmont, the Newtons, Waltham, Watertown, Waverley and Weston.

The service was composed of four sections. The first section included five hymns sung by the combined senior choirs with Miss Louise K. Brown as soloist, Psalm 19 led by the pastor, Rev. H. Grant Person, D.D., was particularly beautiful.

The Second Section "Three Hymns of Jesus and His Love" was marked by a special anthem given by the Beth Eden Chorus.

In the Third Section, the combined Junior Choirs of the District sang "Praise Ye the Father."

In the Fourth Section songs devoted to the Martyrs, Apostles, and Pilgrims, the Benediction was sung by all the choirs.

While this program was being carried out in the chapel presided over by the Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., there was also story-telling by Mrs. Florence Sears Ware of Worcester.

This picture is of interest for several reasons. So far as known, the Norumbega District Sunday School Association which embraces all the Evangelical Sunday Schools—54 in number—in the Newtons, Waltham, Watertown, Belmont, Waverley, and Weston, is the first District, or county organization in the country to demonstrate the fundamental unity of faith, beneath the variety of forms of various churches by memorizing in their vari-as to what he really desires to do is also met by the use of pre-vocational work." The committee points out that the purpose of this work is not primarily to teach handiness in the use of tools, nor to give skill in commercial or industrial branches, but rather to discover the kind of work for which the pupil has the greatest aptitude. The committee recommends that such pre-vocational work be supplemented by a general survey of vocations.

3. Departmental instruction. The committee maintains that this is of great advantage, as it makes for thoroughness and accuracy of scholarship and better methods of teaching.

4. Promotion by subject.

5. The earlier introduction of certain subjects which have hitherto generally been taught only in the four-year high school.

6. The opportunity for better social adjustment. "It seems fair to say that this claim can hardly be justified unless the school has a building of its own where real school life and spirit may be developed."

7. The possibility of forming accelerant groups for pupils who can proceed more rapidly than the average pupils.

8. Easier transition from the elementary school to the high school.

9. Promotion of desirable educational reforms. "The enthusiasm for our schools a selected list of the great hymns of the church which are common to all. This picture containing part of the 1200 present was taken at the second annual gathering to sing these hymns. In the next place, memories are being built here that will help form character, and which in future years, when these tunes are heard, will bring hundreds of young people back to their homes."

Then the emphasis is not upon the spectacular event of the day of the Festival, but upon these four points:

1. To learn the tunes.
2. To memorize the words.
3. To see the picture in each verse.
4. To hold all these for a life possession.

And again the greatest present benefit may not be at all to the members of the schools, who are learning the hymns, but to those parents in the homes, who have come to realize that the primary responsibility for religious education rests upon the parents and not the Sunday School, although the volunteer teachers do assist the parents, who therefore welcome something definite and concrete like this necessity of helping their children learn these hymns, as being one thing to bind the family together.

Then too, it is really a simple thing, but, perhaps, its very simplicity makes it easy to carry through, and constitutes its greatest value in storing the mind of the individual scholar with worth while memories, in binding the home together, and in uniting the entire community in a religious activity.

a new institution in an education system often makes possible reforms which progressive superintendents and principals could not otherwise have secured." Among such gains the committee mentions an increase in the number of male teachers, a longer school day and supervised study.

Among the gains reported by those who have tried the junior high school plan the committee mentions the following: better spirit and better interest on the part of pupils, easier discipline, less retardation, and less dropping out of schools.

The committee finds only three objections to the junior high school that deserve serious consideration, namely: the necessity for pupils to travel greater distances to school; the increased cost to the taxpayer; and the possibility of too early and too marked differentiation.

4. Promotion by subject.

5. The earlier introduction of certain subjects which have hitherto generally been taught only in the four-year high school.

6. The opportunity for better social adjustment. "It seems fair to say that this claim can hardly be justified unless the school has a building of its own where real school life and spirit may be developed."

Bigelow School

Last Friday afternoon the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades assembled in the school hall for Memorial Day exercises.

Three veterans, by stories of their personal experiences in the Civil War, held the keen interest of the scholars. A feature of the program was a list of the names of Bigelow boys who gave their lives in the World War. The speaker said, "The gold stars on our service flag mean Frank Chivers, Henry Clarke, Charles Flanagan, Henry McLean, John Williamson, Elwood Colby, one upon the sea, one in training camp, and four over there upon the battle front in France."

After a bugler had sounded "Taps," Robert Rees recited Rupert Brooke's poem "Blow out, you bugles over the rich Dead."

The other grades also held exercises in the hall.

Patriotic songs were sung, and the School Orchestra furnished music.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

According to Metropolitan park police, all records for canoeing were broken on that section of the Charles river between Waltham and Riverside Monday. Every canoe in the various public boathouses was rented for the day, and it is estimated that more than 6000 craft were on the river. Despite the throng only five cases of upsetting were reported to the police and no rescues were included in the list, as all the unfortunate got safely ashore.

EDITORIAL

Parents and taxpayers should have a deep interest in the public hearing Monday night before the Aldermen on the matter of establishing junior high schools. Parents because of the manner in which it will affect young children—too young in the opinion of many to travel any great distance to school, and taxpayers because of the great expense the plan will entail.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Great and General Court will undoubtedly prorogue this week, possibly before this article is printed, although the chances favor a session until late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

The state tax has been assessed this year at $213,000, an increase of $45,660 over the tax of last year.

Outside of the state tax there is little this week of direct interest to Newton, all the measures in which this city was interested having been acted upon earlier in the session.

An instance of the importance of even one vote came up this week, when one member of a committee reporting a soldiers' bonus measure to the House happened to be delayed for an hour in reaching the State House. During his absence an amendment to which the member, as well as the committee, was opposed came up for discussion and was favored by the House by a vote of 53 to 52. This action added about $140,000 to the expense of the bill to the state. Rather a costly vote it would appear. Fortunately the Senate acted adversely on the amendment and when the matter again came up into the House it was easily beaten.

Representative Rice made a futile attempt on Thursday to reduce the appropriation for the proposed recess commission on consolidation of the laws, from $125,000 to $75,000 but was unable to get even a roll call on the proposition.

J. C. Brimblecom.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH

This week has brought bad luck to some of the athletic teams, for with Newton out of the pennant race in baseball, the tennis teams once defeated and the golf team just going "fair," it has not been crowded with victories. On Saturday Newton started out strong, defeating Malden by a high score. Monday brought Cowing a victory and well earned one, the score being 1-0 over Rindge. On Wednesday, however, Cambridge pulled the unexpected and shut out the home team 5-3. Cambridge certainly hit Lyon very freely getting 12 hits, while Newton seemed to work exceptionally hard to get 5 hits. The team which played for Newton wasn't the same team in spirit, that beat the Cantabs last time, for there was a great lack of team work. Perhaps it was the weather, or perhaps that "jinx" which always shows up at Russell Field, was on the job. Of course the school and the team are disappointed but that doesn't mean that Newton isn't going to work hard for second berth.

In regard to tennis, it may be said that Andover and St. Marks fell before Newton's onslaught and so does not discourage that team very much. However in the Harvard tournament, Crosby and Hill fell in the second round and also were unlucky enough to be beaten in the State Championship Doubles at Brae-Burn. Sly and Fairfield have been doing some fine playing lately and it can easily be seen that there work was the winning of the St. Mark's contest on Wednesday and a great aid to the team in defeating Andover.

Last Friday morning, Memorial Day exercises were carried on in the Assembly Hall, and although there has been mention of it before in this paper, one thing may well be added. After the fine recitations by some of the pupils of the school, Mr. James Reed, who introduced himself as "Jim" Reed, gave one of the most novel and interesting accounts of his part in the Civil War that has ever been heard. In the first place he sang, unaccompanied, his version of the Civil War. It was five verses long and when he had finished the school was so enthusiastic that he sang another one. He certainly was well received and there is no doubt but what Mr. Reed is popular among the pupils.

PIAZZA PARTIES

Beginning with Saturday afternoon, June 5, a series of Piazza Parties for Poland has been arranged for the Saturday afternoons of June, at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill. As the name indicates, the proceeds are to go to Polish Relief. The hostesses for June 5 will be Mrs. Alec R. Keltie of Hyde Park, Mrs. Harry F. McMinn of Allston and Miss May G. Ward of the Beaconsfield, Brookline.

THE GESTERS

Brookline, which has been especially favored in its club circles by the presentation of dramatic performances, has added to the list a club organized to bring together those who can sing and dance as well as act. The newly formed club will be known as "The Gesters," and its initial performance will be a musical comedy in three acts, "Breakfast for Two," which will be presented in Whitney Hall, June 15. The comedy was written and staged by Mrs. Pearl M. Keating, whose work is known for her many successes in clubs throughout Greater Boston. A cast of favorites includes the Misses Eunice Morse, Hazel Woodside, Ethel Howard, Wilhelmina Albrecht, Ruth Van Atten, Cornelia Head, Esther Woodward, Mrs. Collier, Messrs. Orson Curtis, Roger Bird, Charles Donelan, Lawrence Hanley, Max Shapiro and Walter Spillane. A chorus numbering 20 bright girls and young men will assist in the musical numbers. The committee producing this comedy have put in much time at rehearsals at the Hotel Coolidge and promise an entertaining performance.

The members are:

Paul F. Donelan, chairman; "Dot" Fuller, "Connie" Head, Hazel Woodside, Phil Bird, Max Shapiro. The show will be followed by dancing till one and a good time is assured.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

On Saturday, June 12, at 2:30, the second piazza party for Poland will be held at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill. The hostesses will be Mrs. D. R. Goodin, and Mrs. L. B. Cubbison, of Allston.

The Soloist at the Sunday Concert, of May 30th, was Mrs. F. C. Cook, of Brookline.

WIN MANY BLUE RIBBONS

Thirteen of the horses of the C. F. Eddy Co. of West Newton took part in the Work Horse Parade on Memorial Day, all of them winning blue ribbons. There were six entered in the Coal Class, three double teams and three single teams. The exhibition was especially commendable and received much applause when passing the grand stand. The drivers' names in this class were: Patrick Welch, Thomas Clark, Thomas Morrissey, Peter Meredith, Thomas Burke and Frank Bemis.

In the Championship Singles Heavy Horses, Mr. William Fitzsimmons, with a beautiful roan horse weighing over seventeen hundred pounds, won the much coveted shield, and a blue ribbon.

Mr. James Spikes with a fine team of bay horses also won a blue ribbon in the Championship Doubles Heavy Horses.

In the old horse class Mr. James Fox, a veteran driver, won a special prize with his gray horse which has now been in the parade for nine consecutive years.

The American Humane Society offers a special medal for that driver in the parade who has been the longest continuous time in the service of his present employer or the predecessor of that employer. The association gives a second prize of five dollars ($5.00) to the driver with the second longest term and a bronze medal to every driver entering in this class whose term of service is twenty years or over.

Mr. James Spikes employed by C. F. Eddy Co. wins the medal this year for the longest term of service, having been in the employ of that company for thirty-two years. There are two other drivers in the C. F. Eddy Company on the list, Mr. Thomas Clark and Mr. James Fox, and out of a total of over six in the entire parade of over seven hundred drivers, three were employed with that company.

There is many an estate like this. When Brown died he left all he had to his widow. "Good for him. How much did it amount to?" Five small children, a mortgaged home and an unpaid hospital bill. (Take that portrait away, it is of a man that has nothing to show) (Napoleon or a Picture of Charles XII of Sweden). Business Woman, do not be inveigled into the above trap. Be insured.

YOUR HOME

You doubtless feel that prices will be lower and therefore you will have an opportunity but at a lower price.

We wish to call attention however, to the following facts:

According to the Dodge reports, residential building is $350,000,000 behind in New England at the present time and the programme for building in 1920 is so far behind normal that at the end of 1920 New England will be $420,000,000 behind.

It is obvious that it will take many years to catch up to this building, and therefore the law of supply and demand will naturally make it more and more difficult to procure homes and apartments at reasonable figures.

In spite of these conditions we have many houses for sale at prices that have been advanced since our level of 1915, and we are prepared to show costs and profits to all purchasers to prove that this office is not profiteering.

Our business is the supplying of homes to the better class.

If you are paying a rent of $50 or more we can show you that we can better your condition by purchasing from us.

If you have available $2000 or more, we can place you in your own home immediately.

If you have $200 or more in available cash we can get you started so that within a short time you will be in your own home by using your own money.

We cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of your getting started. So many put it off and never get started.

You can accomplish this result by selecting the location and paying in a convenient manner for the lot.

When you have this paid for, this office and the banks are ready to assist in the financing of the construction of your home. The banks are established for this purpose and the money they receive as deposits must be loaned.

Your rent money is making and will be making more and more for the real estate owner.

If you are the real estate owner you will make this profit for yourself.

In view of the expected lowering of prices and the obvious fact on account of the short time of market that the lowering of prices will be temporary only, we advise the purchase of the lot, the preparing of your plans and the securing of bids at the time of this temporary drop in building costs. If you wait, you will not be ready.

If you will be frank with us and let us know your wants in detail, we shall be glad to tell you what we can do for you without obligation on your part.

Our properties are located in the best residential sections of Brookline, Winchester and the Newtons.

Reminiscences of the great tenor that are full of tragedy and yet are related with bright flashes of humor.

Illustrated by special cartoons drawn by Caruso himself and by rare photographs.

A wonderfully human tale of poverty, hunger, discouragement and appalling obstacles overcome by youth and hard work.

In 1893 Caruso found himself in Rome with only two cents in his pocket—and practically starving.

This year he receives $12,000 a performance for twelve nights of opera.

Caruso made this sketch of himself in "La Bohème" in Boston.

Betty was an aggravating child, and the children would seldom play with her long at a time, but got out of patience with her and left her to herself. —Mr. and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, recently returned from their wedding trip in Florida and the South, held their first at-home on Wednesday in their home at 85 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. There were 120 guests present. The house was decorated with pink roses, lilacs and carnations. Tea and luncheon was served while an orchestra played. The pourers were Mrs. J. Foster White of Edge Hill road, Brookline, and Mrs. Francis N. Hardy of Londonderry.

The second scene represents the fairies pleading with their queen on behalf of Bonny Bell and offering to help her to go to the ball. Costumes and lighting effects in this scene were charming, and the children's voices very sweet. One of the fairies, Priscilla Bacon, sang a very effective song. The scene closed with a "Good Night" song.

Scene three represented little Bonny Bell keeping house while the older sisters attend the ball. Her meditations are interrupted by the Queen of the Fairies entering in disguise and telling her of the plan of the fairies for her. Two little brownies added greatly to this scene by their efforts at housekeeping and their clever dancing.

Scene four represented the Prince of the ball. This gave an opportunity for very dainty costumes and dancing. The Prince in his gorgeous velvet robe and Bonny Bell in her transformed gown were, of course, the central figures. Near the close of this scene Bonny Bell escapes and the Prince frantically seeks her.

The next scene brings him to her home with, not the famous slipper, but a glove which the missing Princess has dropped. The singing of Bonny Bell betrays her hiding place in the closet where the wicked step-mother has confined her.

The final scene shows the Prince and Bonny Bell, the entire court and the brownies and the fairies in a frolicking song and dance.

Great credit is due to those who had charge of the entertainment for the splendid way in which the little actors took their parts. At the conclusion of the performance on Thursday a large bouquet of flowers was given to Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, who coached the play.

Those who took part in the entertainment were:

Bonny Bell, Constance Upham; Prince, James Benson; Stepmother, Ruth Holbrook; Alice and Clara, sisters, Doris Benson and Elizabeth Dwinell; Court Jester, Ricco Argen.

Fairy Queen—Constance Barber.

Fairies—Priscilla Bacon, Alice Jack, Lois Cate, Elizabeth Rogers, Lydia Albee, Elizabeth Moynihan, Helen Perkins, Barbara Smith.

Brownies—Chandler Abbott, Minor Ross.

DEATH OF CAPT. NEWHALL

Captain Cheever Herbert Newhall, who died Sunday at his home, 262 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, the son of Charles and Frances Watriss Newhall, was born in Boston, and was in his thirty-third year. He studied at the Volkmann school and subsequently engaged in the real estate business. His Boston office was at 73 Tremont street. Early in the war he entered service and was assigned to the aviation section of the Signal Corps and later transferred to the inspector general's department, with headquarters at Washington. He had been ill for five months. His survivors are a wife, who was Margaret Bull, and three children.

He was buried on Wednesday from his home, 262 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill. The services were conducted by Rev. Lucian W. Rogers, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, and he was assisted by the Harvard Quartet, which was heard in three hymns, "Abide With Me," "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The body was taken to Mount Auburn Cemetery, where taps were sounded by a bugler from the Northeastern Department.

Pallbearers were Elbridge K. and Horatio Newhall, cousins; Horton Pushee, Granville Johnson, John Wheeler and Captain Harry Bull, who has lately returned from an inspection of the camps throughout the country.

Welfare Bureau

The following report was given before the Newton Federation at its annual meeting by the new secretary of the Welfare Bureau, Mrs. Carrie A. Hull, and sums up the work from the beginning in a way which all Newton people will find worthy of consideration.

"Since we were organized and placed on a working basis we have had some dealing with 1533 families and if we limit each to four members we have touched the lives of 6,132 persons, at least an eighth of our population. In doing family work, we ask, 'What is a family?—parents and children. This means a home, and home means part of the community. We give relief, we give food, clothing, but we give much more that cannot be figured in dollars and cents, much that cannot be counted in mere statistics. Going into a home is but a meager beginning, for from that point we begin to reach out. We cannot from a visit get the salient contacts we need to help us intelligently assist. We must know the church, the school, the industries that employ and wages paid, the recreational facilities. We must know about the health. If ill health, why? Is it location, lack of sanitation, or malnutrition? We need the doctor, the nurses, the hospital, with its social service and out-patient departments. We need legal advice, we work with the court, police department, probation officer, every public and private agency, and benevolent individuals.

"We endeavor to make our work constructive, as in the case of a deaf lad, handicapped but placed by us in industry, learning a trade and becoming a useful citizen. With this placing out we see many important needs, and we feel a very important part of our work is to help better conditions.

"We have been interested in the Health Bill, the Censorship Bill for Moving Pictures. For us to go on record as favoring better legislation means not only helping our city, but our state and country. We are interested in our Dental Clinic and its need of better quarters. One dentist and 1 assistant cannot do all the work needed in our schools.

"To show the faith in our organization, the Red Cross gave into our care the Home Service work, the care of families of men in the service and later assisting the men disabled. This has meant the spending of thousands of dollars. The money raised through the Christmas Seal drive—$3,000—was given to us for a Health Campaign. Our first publicity work was to co-operate with the Federation at its Thrift Exhibit. In the campaign itself we plan to work largely in the schools, as the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League believes that preventive work is the best policy.

"We are a member of the Central Council of Social Activities. Our interests are not selfish, but far-reaching. We give courage and friendship in families, this largely through our faithful volunteer and friendly visitors. We give our moral support to needs of the community. We give in service that which cannot be told in reports, for it is not always the poverty stricken and the down-and-out who come to us for help. There is not time to tell what the personal side means, the calls made, the interesting details of a day's work.

"Ours is a work that needs a long look ahead, with vision, faith and patience that our personal contacts and community interests will be far-reaching in results. In helping the present generation we build for the future."

At the Hunnewell Club tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the subject of Junior High Schools will be discussed by State Deputy Commissioner of Education, Frank W. Wright. This method of segregating the Seventh and Eighth grades and the first year of the high school has many advantages and is evidently the coming thing in education. On this account all parents having children who are about to enter these grades will do well to be there to hear what an expert in the matter has to say. The Board of Aldermen will give a hearing on Monday evening next on the report of the joint committee from that Board and the School Committee recommending the establishment of Junior High Schools in Newton as a means of relieving the overcrowding of the present buildings and thus in a measure solving the housing problem.

KNIGHTS OF KING ARTHUR

The last meeting of the Knights of King Arthur of Castle Stirling in Auburndale was held on Tuesday. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Pendragon, Raymond Simonds, who has lived up to all requirements as Knight; and well deserves the office of Pendragon; Constable, C. L. Grant, a very capable knight; Seneschal, Warren Hutchins, a very important office; Chancellor of the Exchequer, Clark Weymouth. #### NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The new Board of Directors of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association met on Tuesday evening for organization. Mr. C. D. Kepner was re-elected president and J. W. Blaisdell vice-president. These two will comprise the executive committee which will have oversight of the work during July and August, the two months of the year when the Directors do not meet.

It was decided to form a city-wide committee to promote community work in the entire city. Under the leadership of Mr. Leary the community work at Newton Centre has proven so successful that the committee are planning to continue this work with a full time secretary in charge. This work will begin next October.

The Board authorized the carrying out of summer plans which includes the F. A. Day Camp at East Brookfield, the entertaining of boys from Boston once a week during July and August and the promoting of athletic games, tennis, baseball, and swimming. Special rates were authorized for summer membership and plans made to accommodate the increase of membership during the summer months.

Mount Holyoke Campaign

Members of the Newton committee on the $3,000,000 Endowment Fund for Mount Holyoke College heard with rejoicing the news of the gift of $500,000 from the General Education Board of New York announced at the college last Saturday. This gift brings the fund past the first million. Alumnae over the country are working as they never worked before and there is every evidence of success. Just at present the Newton committee is pushing its work in order to have as large an amount as possible to announce at Commencement on June 15th. Pledges made at this time need not be redeemed until June, 1924, although it is desirable to do so earlier that the faculty may begin to benefit immediately. Already a substantial raise has been made for next year. The quota for the Boston district is $385,000.

DEATH OF MR. DAVIS

Mr. Frank Davis died at his home on Auburn terrace, Auburndale, last Sunday in his 64th year. He leaves a widow, Olive Davis, and four children: Franklin Davis, Newell Davis, Ralph Davis, and Olive Davis. The latter is employed by Lasell.

Mr. Davis has been in the employ of the Middlesex & Boston St. R. R. for 25 years. Services were held at his late residence, on Wednesday at 2:30, the Rev. George S. Butters officiating and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

We are pleased to hear that the Somerset Farms Creamery Co. is meeting with such marked success with their Wonderful Cream.

We have always felt that the people of Newton would show their appreciation of a superior quality of food, and we find that we were justified in urging the Somerset Farms Creamery to establish a delivery in the Newtons.

KILL ANTS

Many inquiries are coming in as to how to kill ants in the garden, on the lawn, in the flower bed, and around the shrubs. There are a great many different kinds of ants, many of which have different modes of living. Where there are a few small ant holes in the garden, the ants may be destroyed by pouring scalding hot water down the holes. If this method is not successful carbon bisulphide should be tried. Carbon bisulphide is a deadly poison, highly inflammable, and of great value to gardeners. It is well for all home gardeners to have a can of it on hand for use against the different types of insect life in the soil. The method of combating ants with it is to punch holes a foot deep around the infested area, and pour 3 to 4 teaspoonsfuls of the liquid into each one; then the hole should be plugged up with sod or a chunk of damp earth. The fumes from the liquid will penetrate the soil in all directions and kill the ants and all other animal life present.

Start Thinning

It is not too early in many of our home gardens to start thinning. Radishes and lettuce especially should be thinned, radishes to 1/2 or 3/4 of an inch apart, and lettuce to four inches, and later to eight inches. If beets are not planted too thickly they may all be allowed to grow until they are about 3 or 4 inches high, and then the thinned beets can be used for greens. One garden was seen recently where the peas were altogether too thick. It is rare that we plant peas so that they come up too thick. If there are two peas to the inch they probably will come through and give the maximum crop.

Second Plantings

It is now time to make the second plantings of radishes, lettuce, and many other seeds, in order that one will have a continuous supply. Only a small amount need be put in, but the product will come in pretty handy in giving a continuous supply.

Control Witch Grass

Many gardens are green with the growing witch grass. Witch grass can be controlled if one will keep it at it. It requires patience and constant attention. One must cut the grass off at least twice a week so as to starve the root system. The roots must obtain their starch from the leaves, which obtain it from the air. If the roots do not have growing leaves on them for any length of time they starve within six or eight weeks. If one hoes witch grass once a week the leaves are on the plants long enough to form enough starch to drag the plants along from week to week.

CHILDREN HURT

A bad accident took place Sunday afternoon at West Newton, when the holiday crowds were on the way to the river.

An automobile driven by William L. Harvie of Columbus road, West Newton, suddenly emerging from behind a Middletown & Boston trolley car, ran up on the sidewalk at the corner and struck little Esther Colburn of 286 River street, West Newton, and Harold Tobin of River street, hurling them up against a fence.

The Tobin boy, who is 11 years old, is at his home, suffering from a possible concussion of the brain, and his playmate is in the Newton Hospital, probably disfigured for life.

Harvie, who is a paperhanger in West Newton, said that he was trailing the electric car and that in order to avoid striking it when it stopped suddenly, was forced to run up on the sidewalk. The Tobin boy was given a new cart for a birthday present recently and the little Colburn girl was in the cart at the time of the accident. He was taking her to the corner store to get ice cream. The cart was shattered.

DEATH OF MR. DEARBORN

Edward E. Dearborn, whose home has been at 62 Walnut Park, Newton, died there on Friday, after prolonged ill health, in his fifty-eighth year. He was born in Newton and was the son of Dr. Charles E. Dearborn, a prominent Boston dentist. Edward Dearborn received his education in the public schools of Newton, where the major part of his life had been spent. He never engaged in any business or profession, because of the condition of his health. His final illness, to which he succumbed, had been of about two years' duration. Mr. Dearborn was a member of the Boston City Club and had belonged to the old First Corps Cadets. In 1897 he was married in Sheiburne, Vt., to Miss Grace Atwell, at the Episcopal Memorial Church in Sheiburne, of which Miss Atwell's father, Rev. Benjamin Warren Atwell, D. D., was rector. Mr. Dearborn and his wife lived for ten years in Vermont, following their marriage, and then went to Newton to reside. He is survived by his widow.

Services were held at 10.30. Rev. Laurens MacLure, officiating. Burial was at Springfield, Mass.

Cut your Kitchen Hours

No more getting up to kindle fires. No more coal scuttles to fill or ashes to carry, and no more soot. All the drudgery that makes kitchen hours drag, abolished. The New Perfection Oil Cook Stove gives full cooking heat the instant the match is applied.

The long, blue chimney on this stove concentrates the flame and gives just the proper draft for perfect combustion. At the same time this chimney drives all the heat directly to the spot where it does the most good.

A special feature of the built-in oven cook stove is the heat-retaining oven. Give it thirty minutes of quick heat—close the damper and turn the burner off. All the heat is retained in the oven until the food is to be served.

The New Perfection Oil Cook Stove has 3,000,000 users. It comes in 1, 2, 3 and 4-burner sizes.

BACKYARD GARDENS

Many people who had not planned for a backyard garden this year have been influenced by the governor's proclamation to change their minds. Because of this fact the Hillcrest prizes, offered by Miss Marion R. Case of Weston, for the best gardens in Middlesex County will be open to all persons who make application before June 5, instead of May 1 as previously announced.

These prizes are open to adults and children over ten years of age who cultivate not less than 800 square feet and raise at least ten varieties of vegetables. The gardens will be scored three times during the summer, and three prizes—$60, $35, $20—will be awarded.

Application for entrance in the contest may be made to Miss Marion R. Case of Weston, or the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics, 7 Moody street, Waltham.

The ribbon holders were Miss Gladys Kingham, of Newton Centre, Miss Mildred Cresley of Brookline, Miss Martha Poole of Newtonville, and Miss Pearl Briggs of Attleboro. These wore rose organdie gowns with white ribbons attached to their wrists thus forming an aisle for the bridal party. The flower girl was Beatrice Perin of Brookline. Her gown was of white tulle over shell pink silk and she carried a silver basket of Russel roses tied with silver maline.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was tastefully decorated with palms, roses, and maiden hair ferns. Music was furnished by Kimball's orchestra.

defeated the Bigelow nine Tuesday afternoon on the Burr Playground by the score of 15-1. Stearns showed a quality of baseball worthy of champions. Landry pitched strongly throughout the game, not issuing a pass. MacSorley at third and Butler at short also played baseball of secondary school calibre. The team is extremely confident of taking the measure of Pierce and Mason, the next opponents.

The Boys' Club is planning a banquet and "Ladies' Night" for the evening of June 10th. A special entertainment is being planned. Present and honorary members have been formally invited to be present.

The eighth grade has voted to hold a "Candy Sale," Thursday morning to help swell a fund which is being raised to purchase a class gift for the school. The gift, a picture in color, will be hung in the eighth grade classroom.

The eighth grade contributed and sent to Emma Bolclair a classmate and officer, tokens of its sympathy for her in her severe illness. A basket of fruit and flowers were brought to her by the class secretary.

Horace Mann Notes

In the eighth grade, a Class Gift Committee has been appointed by the president, Kenneth Messer. The work of this committee is to select a gift to leave to the school in memory of the 1920 class. The gift will be paid for with the money collected for class dues.

Miss Stopp seventh grade teacher, and Mr. Carr, principal of the school, were invited by the seventh grade girls to a "morning lunch." The girls, dressed in their cooking attire, served the lunch and it was greatly appreciated by both visitors.

The sixth grade has gone "over the top" in obtaining money for the French War Orphan. Five rooms have already collected their quota, leaving 5 more rooms to obtain their amount.

Two reflectoscope lessons were given, one on Wednesday and the other on Friday in the school hall. One was given by Muriel Burgess and Mae Horrigan on "Switzerland." The other on "Abraham Lincoln" for the benefit of the eighth grade in connection with their study of the Civil War, by Helen McKeon.

Parliamentary Law Class

The Newton Parliamentary Law Class held its annual meeting and luncheon on May 25th. At the meeting the question of dissolving the class was discussed. The fact that the Newton Community Club is to organize a class in Parliamentary Law in the Fall, obviated the necessity of continuing this class, and so, after 15 years of usefulness, the N. P. L. C. dissolved. This gives the instructor, Mrs. Electa M. Sherman, the second and fourth Tuesday of each month for larger usefulness. A beautiful gold wrist watch and bracelet were given to Mrs. Sherman in recognition of her faithful service. A plant of beautiful roses and other gifts was also given to the hostess.

Burr School

At the Memorial Day Exercises last Friday, the Burr School was honored in being addressed by Mr. Nash of the G. A. R.

A baseball game was played last Friday with Newton Highlands. There were five innings, and then C. C. Burr School won. The score was 8-7. School gardens have been begun. All grades from the fourth to seventh are working in them.

Twenty-one pupils of the Eighth grade and their teacher, Miss Kingman, visited the Youth's Companion building on Wednesday. They were shown about by Mr. J. M. E. Drake, one of the members of the firm.

Lasell Seminary

Nature was very kind to the May Day merrymakers, for perfect weather made the annual fete an unusually happy one. The exercises open with the crowning of the May Queen by the President of the Senior Class and the other students followed in their respective classes paying homage to the fair Queen, each in turn singing songs written especially for the occasion. Four little children from the Woodland Park School led the procession carrying baskets of flowers and receiving about as much applause as the Queen herself. Then followed the May Fete, consisting of spring dances, the winding of the May pole by the children of the Woodland Park School and folk dancing. The fete was under the direction of Miss Nellie Woodward '15, the Physical Training Director and her assistant, Miss Flora Boynton.

The students of Lasell through the courtesy of the Congregational Church enjoyed a most interesting illustrated lecture on Africa on Sunday night. The message was given by Rev. Fred R. Bunker and proved to be one of the most interesting and impressive services of the year.

The second event in the regular Commencement program was the Concert on Wednesday evening, which was given by the most representative members of the music department which is unusually large this year. Voice, piano, organ and violin selections reflected great credit to the teachers and pupils.

Thursday afternoon occurred the annual exhibits of the departments of Swimming, Cooking, Sewing and Art. If Lasell may believe all the kind criticisms of the guests who attended, we have every reason to congratulate ourselves on the success of these several departments.

On Saturday evening Dr. and Mrs. Winslow entertain the Seniors and their friends at a reception held in the Bragdon Hall parlors.

The Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered as usual in the Congregational Church on Sunday by Edward Cummings, A. M.

Lasell is favored in having as her Commencement Vespers Speaker William C. Gordon, Ph. D., who for so many years was the successful pastor in the Congregational Church, and a favorite vespers speaker.

Class night preparations are already being made for the usual impressive exercises on the Seminary campus. On account of the size of the graduating class, the largest in the history of the institution, admission to this will be by ticket, but the friends of the school are invited to participate in the torch light procession following the exercises, which will occur at about 9:30 P. M.

Mt. Ida

On Tuesday evening the pupils of Mt. Ida gave a very effective presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew." The part of Petruchio was taken by Miss Jean McLean Morrison, of Baptista by Miss Jean McLean Morrison, of Katherine, the Shrew, by Miriam Ravitch, of Bianca by Miss Ernestine Ralph and of Hortensio by Miss Dorothy White.

The Boys' Club is planning a banquet and "Ladies' Night" for the evening of June 10th. A special entertainment is being planned. Present and honorary members have been formally invited to be present.

The eighth grade has voted to hold a "Candy Sale," Thursday morning to help swell a fund which is being raised to purchase a class gift for the school.

The gift, a picture in color, will be hung in the eighth grade classroom.

Cladlin School

The Horace Mann-Cladlin baseball team lost a game to the Stearns team on Friday, May 28, score 6-5, and won a game from the Peirce School on Tuesday, June 1st, score 14-11.

Grade V, Room 2 are to enjoy their annual picnic in Cabot Woods this afternoon, Thursday, June 3rd.

The Cladlin School Memorial Day exercises were appreciated by the audience, especially the pageant given by the sixth and seventh grades. The most interesting feature was the thrilling living picture of "The Spirit of '76." Those taking part in it were Malcolm Hagan and John Canada of the seventh grade and Alfred Zeigler of the sixth.

A wounded lad was brought in on a stretcher, carried by two Civil War soldiers. The soldiers were Loyd Young, Edgar Kent and James Stevenson as the wounded man. The cast follows:

1. State, Marian Young ...Grade VII
2. Little Girl, Katherine Irwin ...Grade VI
3. The Indian, Robert Andres ...Grade VI

4. The Pilgrims:

12. Agriculture, Rose Hughes ...Grade VI

15. Shipping, Sally Wright, ...Grade VI

Other pantomime pictures were, "The Appeal to the Great Spirit," Robert Andres, A Prayer and Song of the Pilgrims in the open, and the Union of North and South. The keynote was Freedom.

The costumes were appropriate and very effective against the background of flags.

The Misses Allen School

The sixteenth year of the school closed on Wednesday afternoon, with a graduating class of eleven, with a number of postgraduates. A pageant representing periods in American history was given Tuesday evening on Miss Allen's lawn before a group of friends, after which a delightful dance was held in the School hall. The following took part in the pageant:

Spirit of the Dance, Joyce Butler; Spring Dance, Eleanor Wheeler; Indian Boy, Esther Bassett; Indian Girl, Helen Hubbard; John Smith, Dorothy Schier; Puritan Girl, Phyllis Hunt; Puritan Boy, Elizabeth Chapin; Dutch Boy, Kathryn Speckman; Quaker Girl, Rosemary Norcross; Colonial Girl, Frances Tolerton; Colonial Girl, Katherine Jordan; 1860 Boy, Isabelle Marvin; 1860 Girl, Mary Jordan; Modern Boy, Lorraine Cottrell; Modern Girl, Arville Moran; Spirit of the Future, Virginia Hicks. Committee in charge, Dorothy C. Schier and Mary L. Jordan.

The graduating exercises were simple in character, as is the custom of the school. Prof. Sophie Hart of Wellesley addressed the graduates and their friends, who came from far and near. Miss Lucy Allen presented the diplomas to the following: Miss Phyllis Hunt of Boston, Miss Eleanor Chalmers of West Newton, Miss Elizabeth Chapin of Chicago, Miss Margaret Eaton of Connecticut, Miss Elizabeth Fogle of Canton, Ohio, Miss Virginia Hicks of Sioux City, Iowa, Miss Elizabeth Mann of Waltham, Miss Alice Mills of Waverley, and Miss Frances Tolerton of Chicago.

The post graduates were Miss Mary Jordan of Minneapolis, Miss Ruth Baxter of Boston, Miss Elizabeth Nichols of Sioux City, Iowa; Miss Villa Moran of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Christina Watson of Plymouth.

A reception followed and later the graduating class held the annual dinner at the Brae Burn Country Club.

NEWTON GIRL PLAYS AT CUSHING ACADEMY

Miss Muriel French, Newtonville's prodigy violinist, was the artist chosen this year to assist the students of Cushing Academy, within the hills of Ashburnham, in giving their annual Musical Recital which is the biggest event of each class and closes the social program for the year.

Miss French, who is an artist of rare beauty of expression and rhythmic interpretation has been playing for the last year in Tremont Temple.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scouts of Newton took part in the parade on Memorial Day, and went, after the parade, to Edmunds Park, where they held a camp fire. The retiring Scout Commissioner, Mr. James C. Irwin, handed over to his successor, Mr. John Benbow, the District Colors and the control of the district. Yells for both Mr. Irwin and Mr. Benbow were given by the scouts, and then the evening was spent in telling stories about the camp fire.

TROOP II NEWS

At the recent meeting of Troop 2 Scouts Harold Wilm and Robert Rees were awarded their First Class badges by the chairman of the troop committee, Mr. Charles E. Rees. Mr. Rees complimented the scouts for their work in preparing for this, the highest rank in Scouting. A letter was also read from Commissioner Irwin commanding the work done by scouts Rees and Wilm in connection with the map making requirement.

Scout Stof is to be commissioned an assistant scoutmaster soon. Henry will be the third assistant in this troop—all now active, who has come up through the ranks, Messrs. Woodbridge and Church, now being assistants. May there be many more like them.

Scout George Colburn, formerly of Troop 4 Watertown, was a visitor and expects to transfer to this troop his people having recently moved to Newton.

This troop had a large number present at the memorial day parade, and had all of their officers on the job. This troop, under assistant scoutmaster "Jack" Woodbridge took an overnight hike to Sneed's sand pit in Auburndale last Saturday, all having a most enjoyable time.

Scouts from Troop 5 will be on duty June 5th at the Lawn Fete given in aid of the Mothers' Rest, at the estate of Mrs. Stimpson in Chestnut Hill.

Both Wellesley troops will be on duty the same day at the Hunnewell estate and the Baltzer estate in Wellesley, acting as guides for the people who are coming from all about Boston to inspect the estates.

Arrangements have been made with the American Red Cross Life Savings Corps of Boston, to give a demonstration at the Y. M. C. A. pool next Wednesday at 8:00 P. M. There will be races for the scouts, and a feed after the affair is over.

The Council "flivver" broke all records Memorial Day for scouts carried, hauling 18 scouts and is still running.

The campaigning trip for the leaders of the Patrol Leaders School has been set for the week of July 4, the scouts leaving on Saturday July 3rd and returning the following Saturday. They expect to go by auto to a place known as Mountain Pond, which is near North Conway, N. H. in the heart of the White Mountains. The party will be under Executive Talbot and Deputy Commissioner Chas. E. Johnston. Full particulars will be given later.

SCHOOL NOTES

Clayton School

The Seventh Grade Cooking Class served Miss Bragg, Miss Raymond, Miss Schieb and Mr. Carr a luncheon on Monday afternoon. The menu consisted of tomato bisque, mashed potatoes, meat loaf, boiled onions, spinach, bread and butter. Junkt with soft custard was the dessert. The waitresses were Martha Wilson, Myrtle Atwood and Theresa Leighton.

Miss Bragg requested the cooks to explain how they made the various foods, which was gladly done.

On Thursday, June 3, the children of Grade V, Room 1, Clafin School had a picnic at Cabot Woods. A large open spot near the golf links was chosen for the occasion and although the sky was clouded over, everyone had a good time.

The games played were—baseball, basketball, horse and rider and London bridge. The races were long distance, relay, sack and wheelbarrow.

Then lunches were unpacked and everyone gathered on hill. The ice cream was gone before anyone knew it.

The last "Four Weeks" Report shows Grade V, Room 1, with the highest percentage of attendance for the four weeks, 96.3 per cent. Grades VIII, VI, V, Room 1, and IV, had no tardy marks during the period.

ACORN DRAMATIC CLUB

The Acorn Dramatic Club gave a delightful play called "Sunbonnets" at Channing Church on Friday night. The play dealt with rival societies in a church, one of whom had ridiculed the other because of the wearing of "sunbonnets." Complications arise when it is discovered that the two societies are to meet at the same house on the same day. The play abounded in keen observation of human nature and in bits of humor. The parts were admirably taken. Between the acts Miss Edith Temple gave selections on the piano, and Miss Alice Holmes danced a Gypsy dance. The cast included Eleanor Smith, Helen Nagel, Doris Paine, Elizabeth Pearson, Esther Harding, Elizabeth Wetherbee, Eleanor Richardson, Adelaide Ball, Meta Bachmann, Katherine White, Barbara Butler.

POPULATION IS 46,038

The Census Bureau announces the population of the city as 46,038 an increase of 6232 over that of 1910, or 16.7 per cent, and an increase of 2925 over the state census of 1915.

SCHOOL ACCOMMODATIONS

A special committee of Aldermen and members of the school committee which have been studying the matter of additional school accommodations has just filed a most interesting report on the subject.

The present needs of the school department are:—

1. Additional accommodations for the High Schools.
2. Relief for the West Newton and Auburndale districts.
3. A new building to relieve the Stearns, Horace Mann, Claffin and Bigelow districts.

Also, there should be new schools in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands not later than one year after the opening of new schools the construction of which should be begun at once.

There is extreme congestion in both High Schools, which can be relieved either by an addition to the Technical High estimated to cost $400,000 or a new High School on the south side, the cost of which with equipment would be at least $1,000,000.

The committee does not favor a south side high school nor addition to the present high schools and believes the junior high school plan to be the best.

The school committee is in favor of a transitional period of two or three years, starting the junior high schools on the north side of the city, mean while gradually working the seventh and eighth grades of all grammar schools into the courses of study suitable for the junior high school.

The committee recommends two new school buildings for junior high schools, to be ready September 1, 1921, one at West Newton possibly on Washington street, east of Commonwealth avenue and serving West Newton, Auburndale and Lower Falls, and one on Newtonville avenue, near Harvard street, to serve Newtonville, Newton and Nonantum.

The committee favors reinforced concrete construction and a general plan adaptable to larger or smaller buildings.

The committee condemns the present gymnasium facilities and will report later its recommendations in this respect.

NEWTON NIGHT

The senior class and faculty of the Newton Technical School observed Newton night last Monday at the meeting of the Baptist Social Union in Ford Hall, Boston.

President William T. Sheppard of the union declared the attendance was the largest at any Newton night in many years.

Ernest F. Campbell of East Milton represented the graduating class on the platform, and spoke on "Our Outlook On Our Work."

Dr. George Edwin Horr, president of Newton Theological School, brought the laymen to their feet when he pronounced the final decision of the Supreme Court on the prohibition amendment to be "the result of a fight by Christian men for a Christian world." He urged the need for an educated ministry.

JUNIOR TENNIS

The fifth annual open Lawn Tennis Tournament for junior singles, open to boys who have not reached their 18th birthday on March 1, 1920 and for boys' singles, open to boys who have not reached their 15th birthday on March 1, 1920, will be held by the Longwood Cricket Club at their Chestnut Hill grounds beginning Saturday, June 19, 1920. Entries must be sent to Edwin Sheafe, 141 Milk street, Boston, before 6 P. M. on June 17th.

THE FAMILY ALBUM OF OUR GOVERNMENT

Interesting pictures take place of many words in series of popular booklets.

For five consecutive months there has been mailed to many homes throughout this community a series of illustrated articles on the activities and achievements of the different departments of the United States Government. The writers of this series of stories have succeeded admirably in keeping away from the old stereotyped style of government articles, and in showing in a fascinating way how each of the various factors of our government serves the individual man, woman and child.

The illustrations have been very effective in holding the interest. Their range makes this series a family album of the government departments and has added greatly to the eagerness with which the articles are being received by children and those of foreign birth as well as by full-fledged citizens. Thus far this collection has comprised the Declaration of Independence; The World's Biggest Job—The Presidency; The Department of State; The Post Office Department; The World's Foremost Engineer—The Department of the Interior. Each of these stories has been prepared after a most careful survey and original research which has brought the account of the ever-changing functions of each department up to the minute.

The text is written in popular style and gives a clear idea of the duties of the United States government departments and of the work of each of them in furthering the individual interests of every resident within the borders of the country. It is to the enterprise and community interest of the Newton Trust Company that the distribution of this material is due.

The first folder contains the story of the Declaration of Independence, with illustrations of the scenes that are associated with the event. Next comes an article on the Presidency with unusual historical prints and portraits. This is followed by a booklet on the Department of State with an account of its history and the part it has played in the great game of international politics. The story of the Post Office Department, which comes next, gives a most interesting and well written account of the difficulties which have been overcome in order that every remote outpost of our far-flung territory may be in constant touch with every other Post Office within our borders.

The latest article to appear is a fascinating story of the work of the Department of the Interior with unusually interesting illustrations, picturing the work of the government's engineers and of the Great National Parks, Yellowstone and Mesa Verde, which are maintained under this department's jurisdiction. This series is of very real value. Not only is it interesting and entertaining but it is educationally in a high degree, and it is most timely.

We understand that it is still possible to obtain the back numbers of this series and the portfolios designed to preserve them in permanent form by making personal application during business hours.

Pull Together for an American Merchant Marine

The war resulted in the creation of a great merchant marine—10,000,000 tons of American ships which cost us $3,000,000,000.

Everybody agrees that we must keep this fleet on the seas.

If we fall back to pre-war conditions—when only 9 per cent of our foreign trade was carried in American ships—

We shall be in the position of a department store whose goods are delivered in its competitor's wagons.

Congress is considering legislation which will perpetuate our war-built merchant marine.

Until this is done the ships we have should not be sold to face conditions which, prior to the war, resulted in the decline of our merchant marine to insignificance.

This Committee calls attention to these facts because a right solution of our shipping problem is vital to the future prosperity of shipbuilding, but equally vital to the safety and prosperity of the nation.

Holiday Suggestions

As the vacation approaches and we recall the alluring plans pigeonholed in our minds for lack of time in which to carry them out, we feel a certain thrilling expectancy that now at last these dreams may become realities. We have become interested during the past winter in such subjects as mechanics or the modern drama, which we desire a broader background in economics and history to comprehend with greater insight, the problems certain to arise soon. As we lose ourselves in the woods or by the water and discover a comfortable hollow in a pine bank or a niche in the rocks from which we may gaze far out to sea, we often crave a good story.

The summer being not only a period of relaxation but also of replenishing and stimulation, it is but natural that we seize our opportunity to slip several books into our trunk—some for reading aloud on a stormy day to the group about the open fire, others for our own enjoyment and culture. The Newton Library recognizing this inevitable demand for vacation books, has granted the privilege to its borrowers, of taking books that are not too popular, for the summer only requiring their return by October 1st. As suggestive of the many available books, a list for summer reading covering a diversity of subjects, will be contained in this paper for several weeks.

On Running an Automobile

The warm days when every possessor of an automobile is lured on by the call of the open road, have at last arrived and the thoroughfares are more crowded. Some adventurous souls seek the fascinating byways and merrily forget the sign posts that point in their mystifying fashion half a dozen ways at once, while others enjoy greater pleasure in carefully pouring over guide books, but to all comes that startling moment when the engine becomes balky, puts a bit and then stops, or is by some bad fate and an extraordinarily clever engine that event does not occur, there is the haunting possibility of it unless one is quite familiar with the mechanics of an automobile. The following books have been suggested that for those who read them, this fear of a breakdown on some lonely road, may be dispelled.

Brokaw, H. C. *Putnam's automo-agement of the modern motor-

MERRILL—DOWLEY

Miss Muriel Hazard Dowley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dowley of 59 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, was married on Saturday to Mr. Stanley
Walker Merrill, son of Mrs. Charles W. Merrill of Sumner street, Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre.

The bride was dressed in white tulle and satin with a tulle veil and a cap of Princess lace. Miss Lois M. Dowley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore orchid chiffon and embroidered taffeta.

The best man was Mr. Raymond Merrill of Winchester, and the ushers were Mr. Albert Vinal of South Weymouth, Mr. F. Herbert Smith of Newton,
Mr. Stanley Head of Weymouth, Mr.
Ernest J. Weaver of Newton, Mr.
Hughes Richardson of Weymouth, and Mr. Robert C. Bray of Newton. A reception followed the ceremony.

WOMAN KILLED

Miss Florence Newman, 65, of 31
Hancock street, West End, an employee of the Priscilla Publishing Company, Broad street, was knocked down at Boylston and Arlington streets, Boston on Monday forenoon, by an automobile owned and operated by Charles A. Washburn of 142 Lowell avenue, Newtonville. She was pronounced dead on arrival at the City Hospital, where she was taken in a passing automobile. Washburn, arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter, was later released on his recognition. Miss Newman started on her annual vacation Saturday and was on her way to the office of a Back Bay physician when she met her death.

How Many Miles

From a Cord Tire?

Men are everywhere telling remarkable tales about mileage from Miller Cords.
But remember that mileage varies with conditions. Size and load, road and care affect it.

One man who has sold and watched many thousand Miller Tires says this:

"I find that Millers excel other tires in service from 50 per cent to 75 per cent."

The Hudson Taxi Co. of Detroit reports a 15,000-mile average on rather heavy taxis.

Miller Tires are made to last.

back from its present location. Ex-Alderman Quincy Pond sent in a written protest.

Mr. R. D. Francis objected to the proposed sidewalk on Playstead road.

After disposing of these minor hearings, the stage was figuratively cleared for the matter of Junior High Schools, to which about an hour and a half was given.

Mr. Everett E. Kent, chairman of the School Committee conducted the hearing and made the opening remarks. He said in part that the report of the special committee on school accommodations gave most of the details. The Newton schools, he said this fall will be crowded to the utmost, notwithstanding the fact that six portable school rooms will be added to the department. The Technical high school will have 1025 pupils in a building designed for but $25. The last new school buildings in the city were built in 1907-08 and 09. To add 24 rooms to the Technical High will cost $100,000. To build a senior high school on the south side will cost $1,100,000 and take 600 pupils out of the present high schools. The School Committee believed that the proper solution to harmonize the physical needs for room, the financial needs of the city and the educational needs of the children was the Junior High School, which will relieve the pressure on the senior high school by removing the large freshman class and the crowded condition of the grade schools by taking away the seventh and eighth grades. Mr. Kent believed that if the junior high schools were built, the city would only require new primary schools at Chestnut Hill and at Auburndale, and a senior high school later on the south side. He favored two junior high schools at present, one to serve Newton, Nonantum and Newtonville, the other West Newton, Auburndale and Lower Falls, with a third building later to serve Upper Falls, Highlands and Waban. The Mason school at Newton Centre, he said could be used as a high school. He favored the 6-3-3 plan, so called of dividing the twelve years of school life, six in the grades, and three each in the junior and senior high schools. The major subjects in the junior high would be about the same as at present with some pre-vocational work and some elective work in language, science and mathematics. The three year period from 12 to 15 years of age, was he said, one of great importance, during which nature works out the individuality of the child. The junior high school would allow promotions as earned, would allow supervised study, keep the child one year nearer the home, would prevent vocational misfits, give better preparation for college and better schooling for those who do not go to college. The objections he believed were minor details, including the greater distance from home for the seventh and eighth grades, the matter of luncheons and the cost. In reply to questions Mr. Kent said that if the junior high schools were not allowed the only alternative the school committee would have to inaugurate double sessions, part of the pupils coming in the morning and part in the afternoon.

Superintendent Wheeler said the junior high schools were unanimously approved by all the masters and principals and was the best educational movement of the century.

Dr. Frank W. Wright, deputy commissioner of education of the state paid a high tribute to Newton schools which he said enjoyed an enviable reputation. He had been asked to cover three phases of the matter, the permanence of the movement, which he said had been suggested as early as 1896 by President Eliot of Harvard, Berkeley, Cal., established the first junior high school in 1908 and they were well established throughout the West and were an accepted principle of education. There was a wide interest in Massachusetts in the plan and he was sure it had passed the experimental stages and was not a fad. The 6-3-3 plan, he said was not universally accepted, as some cities maintained a centralized grammar school, but the curriculum had been sufficiently established to warrant its cost. He did not favor a standardized curriculum as it should be open to constant change to keep up with the times. He said that a child of 12 wants to try himself out, and the school should be able to adjust itself to the child's needs, and this was what the junior high school accomplished.

Mr. Kent then read letters from Commissioner of Education Payson

Smith and Mr. L. D. Ayres of the Russell Sage Foundation approving the idea.

Senator Thomas Weston said that many municipalities had been before the Legislature this year for larger educational appropriations, Boston asking to spend $6,250,000 in the next three years, New Bedford asking for $2,250,000 and Lowell for $2,000,000, and many he said were planning the junior high school. He discouraged the use of portable school buildings, saying they were fire traps, and in congested cities, filled up the school yard leaving no room for play. He wanted the school kept to a high level and believe that the school system was one place where you ought not to save money.

In reply to questions Mr. Kent said it was not feasible to use the 6-3-3 plan in present buildings as the children in the 12-15 years period needed to be separated from the others. He thought four new buildings sufficient for a number of years, and estimated the number of pupils for each at 800-500-400 and 300.

Superintendent Wheeler stated that the department would have to use some portable buildings even with the junior high schools.

Mr. Wright agreed with Alderman Clement as to the ill effect of cold luncheons on the children, and assumed that a proper junior high school would have ample accommodations for hot lunches and ample time would be given for lunch.

Mr. Ernest Cobb thought that crowded school rooms were the hardened arteries of education. He believed that the junior high school would enlarge the social advantages in meeting children from other villages and he believed that the cost ought not to affect Newton.

Mrs. A. M. Beers read several letters from other cities in favor of the plan.

Ex-Alderman Charles F. Avery urged the board to give the matter careful consideration in the matter of expense and to consult their constituents. He believed it best to double up for a year or two until prices come down.

At the suggestion of Mrs. E. L. Leeds, President Harriman called for a rising vote of the audience and 43, nearly every one there, stood up in favor of the plan.

On recommendation of the Mayor, additional sums were ordered for finishing sewers in Cabot street, Bridge avenue, Cedar street and Beaumont avenue, and $1800 was voted for widening of Hammond street at Beacon street. The Mayor also recommended installation of electrical outfit at city garage, additional men for the City Engineer, asked that clerks in City Hall be paid on service basis and appointing S. F. Buckley, a public weigher.

The Mayor also returned without his approval, the permit granted by the board for a gas filling station for the Middlesex Stations, Thurston and Beacon streets, near Walnut street.

After some debate, the permit was tossed over the veto, by a vote of 14 to 6. Aldermen Cook, Hickey, Hollis, Madden, Phipps and Young voting with the Mayor.

The Mayor also recommended the acceptance of act to beautify the Cochituate aqueduct in Waban, the building of a garage at the Newton Library, suggested that some method be established for granting permits for Sunday sports, favored city land at Burr school for new Auburndale firehouse, recommended reconsideration of salary of Plumbing Inspector and $1800 salary for Miss Ellice and approved $5800 for laying water mains.

William H. Rand was granted an auctioneer license, the Waban Neighborhood Club a permit to use tennis courts on Sunday afternoon, private garages granted to H. B. Stanton, 1829 Washington street, Morris Fried, Cook street and N. Ellis, Ware road, a pole relocation on Norman road to the Edison Co., Edison attachments on Windsor road, telephone attachments on Woodliff road, and permit to remove telephone poles on Lowell avenue.

Petitions were also received for a sewer in Mill street, a sewer in Weyman street and for a sidewalk on Chase street.

The report of the special committee on School Accommodations, recommending two junior high schools was received and referred to committees.

On recommendation of committees, J. V. Monaghan Sons were granted permit to sell gasoline at Auburn and Washington streets, Frank C. Cross, Underwood avenue, A. R. Smith, Adams avenue and Antonio Magni granted permits for private garages, the Gas Company was authorized to open certain streets to lay gas mains, the ordinance relative to plumbing was amended, the ordinance relative to private garage permits was slightly changed, and automobiles authorized to travel on the north side of Commonwealth avenue to reach "buildings" instead of "residences." In this connection Alderman Hollis suggested that the north side of the avenue ought to be thrown open for automobile travel and Street Commissioner Stuart in answer to a question, said that about one-third of the avenue was in shape to stand such travel.

Hearings were ordered on laying out of Hood street, Rogers street, Acacia avenue, on widening Hammond street, and on taking land off Ward street for water purposes. Parker street was ordered improved at a cost of $36,977, and $7,600 additional voted for completion of Dudley road. A sewer was ordered laid in Carlton road, $23,309 voted for laying out of Aiglonquin road, a sidewalk ordered laid on Playstead road, the City Engineer authorized to employ two additional men, and the City Treasurer authorized to receive money for the improvement of the Cochituate aqueduct at Waban, after the legislative act was accepted.

Bond issues of $30,000 for sewers, $30,000 for street improvements and $7,000 for Dudley road were approved.

And at 12:15 P. M. the Board adjourned.

GREAT SUCCESS

The opera, "Fliverteta" the words of which were written by Miss Ethel Freeman while the music was taken from the Cadet operas, was given for the benefit of the Smith College Fund Tuesday evening in Players' Hall, West Newton, before a large and enthusiastic audience.

The opera abounded in surprises; unexpected turns in the dialogue, unusual effects in the scenery, snatches of song which one remembered to have heard but could not quite place. In spite of its allegorical character, the opera had not a dull moment, the movement of both song and action being brisk.

The opera contained three acts, a prologue, and an epilogue. The theme was the raising of the $4,000,000 by Fliverteta and her colleagues in spite of many hindrances. In the prologue the need for the money was made evident by both Faculty and Alumnae.

In Act 1 Henize, a starter, awakens Fliverteta and persuades her to undertake the task, while Ignorance tries to prevent her. Fliverteta is also aided by Goodyear and his followers. The singing of Heinze, Fliverteta, and Goodyear was very well done, and the enunciation so good that they could be understood in all parts of the hall. Mr. Joseph Florian who represented Giant Ignorance was most realistic, and his powerful voice would have caused a child to quake with fear.

The appearance of the Alumnae as Trees was certainly a novelty. As Fliverteta and Heinze wander through this forest they encounter various plagues, among them, Wet Blanket, Slim Pocket Book, Social Obligations, Underpay, Unpaid Bills, and Costoy Living. These are, however, vanquished with an ease that seemed somewhat astonishing to those who in real life find these somewhat formidable.

Indeed, Underpay—that slogan of Labor—is used as a basket ball and tossed about from one to another.

The last scene on Prosperity Hill was particularly effective in artistic grouping and costuming. The conversation between Lord Richfellow, Sir Potential Donor, Lady Limp-and-Lean, and Mr. and Mrs. Rich-Relative was very clever.

The campus cat was an unexpected touch as was the sudden collapse of the formidable Giant Ignorance. Her foes vanquished, Fliverteta is given charge of the Four Million represented by four charming children. The opera ends with her engagement to Goodyear. Among the most effective of the songs was that to "Smith Husbands" sung by Fliverteta in the last act.

In the Epilogue, the grateful Faculty and students welcome Fliverteta and her helpers. The latter come upon the stage from the back of the hall.

As the curtain fell the audience applauded again and again in appreciation of the opera itself and in a vain effort to obtain a speech from Miss Freeman who conducted the opera and whose ability so much was due.

The cast included the following:

Fliverteta, Smith 1775, Miss Anna M. Keenan; Goodyear (or Smith) an honest roaster, Miss Alice Stevens; Heinze, starter, Miss Marion L. Clapp; Goliath Flatfoot, a giant, Joseph Florian, and W. L. Fearing, President Warren, Mrs. R. S. Wyner, Chas. E. Hatfield, Mrs. Philip Thayer, Miss Margaret Arnold, Lawrence Ames, Miss Marjorie Roberts, Miss Mary Newhall, Miss Mary Sprague, Miss Ruth Johnson, Paul C. Steadman, M. Steadman, Webster, Wheeck, Woods.

The Executive Staff consisted of Director: Miss Ethel Hale Freeman; Costumes: Mrs. John Parker Holmes; Business: Miss Marjorie Lincoln; Publicity: Mrs. Reuben S. Wyner; Miss Dorothy Miller; Stage: Miss Ruth Johnson; Pianist: Miss Selma Pelonsky; Director of Dancing: Miss Ruth Pierce; Drum: Mr. Randall Abbott, and the ushers were: Marion Stine, Edith Fisher, Agnes Maland, Dorothy Jones, Helen Ames, Dorothy Gray, Margaret King.

Quite Henglish, This.

"Hout!" cried the umpire as the wicket keeper made a catch.

"Look 'ere," protested the batsman, "it wasn't off my bat, it was off my end."

"Oh!" said the umpire. "My mistake, I heard the ball 't wood and I supposed it was off the bat."—Boston Evening Transcript.

WORK OF PLANT INVENTOR

His Skill Produces Variations That Nature Would Require Thousands of Years to Accomplish.

With a watch glass and a fine camel's hair brush the plant inventor performs miracles. He causes more changes in six generations than Nature, unaided, would produce in 100,000 years. Two plants may be growing in his garden, native of countries separated by continents. Their structures, habits, hereditary tendencies and identities have been preserved through thousands of years. The plant inventor takes the pollen from one, transfers it to the other, and from the glass transforms it to the bloom. The resultant seed is sown. The new plants may resemble one plant or the other, or they may be like neither, or they may be the veriest monstrosities. There are thousands of disappointments for one success in the work.

Luther Burbank chose one seedling out of 65,000 when he invented the primusberry. The rest were remorselessly destroyed. The new primusberry is a cross between the raspberry and the blackberry, but has a fruit much larger and finer than either. Mr. Burbank has produced 300,000 varieties of plums, 60,000 peaches and nectarines, 500 almonds, 5,000 walnuts, 3,000 apples, 2,000 grapes, 2,000 pears and thousands of different kinds of berries, flowers and vegetables in equal profusion.

WEALTH IN BAMBOO GROVES

Their Cultivation in the Southern States Is Expected Soon to Be a Recognized Procedure.

One thinks more readily of an American farm with a wood lot than of one with a bamboo grove, but bamboo groves may yet become common in the southern states, if the idea of "instruct the farmer" in the desirability of planting them makes reasonable progress. It will be a new idea to the farmer, and he will have to think it over. Meantime the country has one important bamboo grove flourishing in the state of Georgia, where it stands in the custody of the United States department of agriculture, to serve as an object lesson. The young bamboo shoots provide an early spring vegetable, said to have a flavor much like that of sweet corn, and the stalks have a wide range of uses which should make a bamboo grove profitable. It is worth the farmer's consideration, for example, that millions of small canes are yearly imported from Japan, and fishing rods made out of them, for which the United States pays annually about $5,000,000.

Hard to Account for Figures.

Statistics have recently been published in Germany which are so striking that the Medical Record's Geneva (Switzerland) correspondent says they "need confirmation." It is stated that for every 1,000 boys born in the later years of the war, 1,086 girls have been born. Before the war the ratio was 1,000 boys to 1,024 girls. "Nothing," writes the correspondent, "is known with certainty as to the conditions that determine sex in the human species, but there is quite a large amount of evidence in support of the generalization that during wars and famines, when the conditions are generally adverse, especially with regard to nutrition, the proportion of male relative to female births increases. If there is any foundation for this generalization, then we must conclude either that the figures are wrong or that Germany was mighty well nourished during the war, or else that the war itself had a powerful influence.

The seventh annual rally of the Norumbega Council will be held on Friday afternoon, June 17th, at the Clafin Field. All interested are cordially invited to come. No charge for admission.

Last Wednesday night an informal swimming meet was held at the Y. M. C. A. pool. Besides the various contests, a demonstration of life saving was given by members of the American Red Cross Life Savings Corps of Boston. Full particulars will appear in the next issue.

Plans for the camping trip of the patrol leaders are progressing. The party will be led by Executive Talbot, Deputy Commissioner Chas. E. Johnston, and Scoutmaster Mansur. The party will go to Mountain Pond, between Jackson and Chatham, N. H., and will start July 3rd, returning July 10th.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

On Monday, May 31st, six members of troop 5, Newton, and their scoutmaster went on a day's trip to High Rock, Needham. An early start was made from Newton Centre at 9 A.M. The car conveyed the detachment to Needham where a fire permit was secured and the hike to the rock was made. On arrival at the rock, tents were pitched and lunch cooked.

Three fires were made and the menu was of the varied kind. After the eats were carefully stowed away under everyone's belt a trap was made and an interesting half hour was spent in tracking. A baseball game followed, in which "Scotty" held the batting record and Hodgeson umpired from the opposite side of the R. R. track.

Shortly after the ball game three of the members spent a half hour finding a secluded spot for swimming purposes on the Charles river. After a short swim the return trip was made to camp. Supper came next with another varied menu and was followed by another ball game. All the members took part in this ball game which was attended by one lone spectator, a yardman on the R. R. Soon after this distinguished person's arrival, the ball was broken and the game ended. Tents were struck and a start for town was made at 6:30 P. M. The water can was returned to a neighboring farmer and the detachment hiked to Needham square. From there the trip was made by car to Newton Centre where the trip ended at 7:40 P. M. Pictures were taken during the day and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

The troop intends to give a "Father and Son" night on Friday evening, June 25th. All members of the troop are expected to be present with their fathers. Supper will be served at 6:15 and a good time will be had afterwards. This social will enable the scoutmaster to meet the boys' fathers.

The seventh annual rally of the Norumbega Council will be held

EDITORIAL

The plumbing ordinances have been amended in the interests of the householder, now let us have a change in the Building Code which will let an ordinary man have a chance to build a house without undue expense.

Mayor Childs veto of the permit to establish a gas filling station on Beacon street, near Walnut street was not sustained by the aldermen. The location would appear to be as objectionable as any in the city.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The General Court for 1920 ceased its labors about one thirty o'clock last Saturday morning after an uneventful session.

The closing hours passed slowly away, as the members either waited for action by the other branch of the Legislature or for the clerks to engross the bills which closed the session. The last bill of all was the supplementary budget which added about three millions more to the expense of the state for the year.

To one who had never witnessed the prorogation of the Legislature, the closing ceremonies were devoid of interest. The House and Senate appointed a committee to notify the Governor that all legislative business has been completed and request the Governor and Council to prorogue. It is rather singular provision of the state constitution that the Legislature cannot prorogue itself, but must have the consent of the Governor and Council. Soon after the committee reports the result of its visit to the Governor, the Secretary of the Commonwealth appears recites the number of acts and resolves and vetoes of the session and then graciously states that the Legislature is prorogued.

The less said about the actions of the members of the House during the closing hours, the better, and I was informed that the so-called justification of this year was very tame as compared with those of previous years. I will merely add that it is well for the Commonwealth that the Supreme Court has ruled that the eighteenth amendment is constitutional.

As I have said before the principal matters of interest to Newton were the bills to regulate billboard advertising and to allow cities to establish building zones. The bill to prevent the pollution of the Charles river was one of the notable achievements for this city, as the matter has been on the carpet for years, and this was the first time favorable legislative action has been taken.

I have heard considerable adverse comment on the appointment of a large recess committee to examine the codification of the laws which it is expected will be enacted at a special session next November. It is true that the sum of $125,000 seems large for the purpose and I do not approve at all of paying each member of the committee of 61, a lump sum of $1000 for performing this duty. The compensation should be based upon the actual performance of the work, as it is a well known fact that some members will do more work than others and a lump sum is not fair either to the state or to the more industrious members. With this exception, the appropriation is warranted as the codified laws are absolutely necessary and there should be a most careful examination of them by the General Court, before enactment. The committee will probably divide into sub-committees of two or three members each, and each sub-committee will be assigned several chapters of the codification and must make a careful examination into the phase of the work of the Commission on consolidation of the laws, which has been at work for the past five years. Senator Weston is a member of this committee.

During the closing hours considerable gossip was heard about the next Legislature. Senator Weston announced that he would not be a candidate again, and as it is usual for the Republican nomination to go to the other end of the district from the sitting member, Representative William J. Naphen of Natick immediately announced his candidacy for the office. Ex-Representative Wood of Hopkinton may also enter the primary. It is understood that the three representatives from Newton will be candidates again this fall for renomination and election. The primaries come this year on September 5th, two weeks earlier than usual.

Lasell

The prize for being the best bread maker among the students of Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, was awarded Tuesday to Miss Florence Phelps of Mobile, Ala., president of the sophomore class and recently chosen by vote of the students to be maid of honor to the May Queen. The trophy, a tiny golden loaf, was awarded at chapel exercises Tuesday morning. Second prize, a silver loaf, was given to Dorothy Sprague of Wallaston, while honorable mention went to Gladys Burnet of Madison, N. J., and Bertha Phelps of Ayer.

Another important announcement was that of the award of gold and silver medals to the girls who achieved the highest averages in all studies for a two-year period. First prize was given to Helen Files of Brunswick, Me., president of the Student Council. Second prize was awarded to Dorothy Balch of Marshalltown, Ia., while honorable mention was awarded to Margaret Perley of Lowell and Helen Brooks of Gardner.

A new prize was awarded this year and proved of much interest. There are three hundred students in the seminary and from each one hundred a single girl was selected who had made the best record in studies, loyalty and winning the friendship of others. Sweaters were given to each of these. The winners were Gladys Keniston of Sacramento, Calif.; Anna Crane of Tippecanoe City, O., and Margaret Loomis of Chicago.

In household economics these girls were certificated: Marion Eaton of Youngstown, N. Y.; Beulah McFarland of Johnson, Vt.; Dorothy Sprague of Wallaston, Elizabeth Stephens of Rumford, Me., and Doris Whitney of Leominster.

Those certificated in secretarial training are Selina Belle Isle, Helen Brooks, Josephine Florence, Leota Fulton, Louise Furbrish, Margery Hussey, Florence Kuhn, Helen O'Brien, Mildred Patten and Margaret Perley. Certificates in academic music were given to Helen Balcom, Doris Crawford, Katherine Ladd, Katherine Rice and Margaret Stewart.

Graduation exercises were held Wednesday noon in the Auburndale Congregational Church; Rev. Thomas Chalmers, D.D., principal of the Allen Military School at West Newton offered prayer, and the address to the graduates was made by Dr. Clifton Daggett Gray, president-elect of Bates College; Dr. Guy M. Winslow, principal of the seminary, presented diplomas to the fifty-seven graduates. Included in the audience was Dr. Charles C. Bradson of Pasadena, Calif., for many years principal of Lasell. After the graduation the alumnae held a reunion.

GUILD—MILLS

Miss Mary Bartlett Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coe Mills of Prescott street, Brookline, was married on Saturday afternoon to Mr. Bartlett Guild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Guild of Sargent street, Newton. Mr. Guild prepared for Harvard College at Pomfret, and was a member of the class of 1921; Miss Mills was a member of Miss Winsor and Miss Porter's School, and also of the 1917-18 Sewing Circle.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride at four o'clock by the Rev. A. Sidney Lovett, Jr., of Mt. Vernon Church assisted by the Rev. Ashley D. Leavett of Harvard Church, Brookline.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and orange blossoms, with a veil of tulle and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles E. Farnsworth of Brookline, Mrs. Sutherland C. Dows of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, sisters of the bride, Miss Esther Fenney of Brookline, Miss Pauline Ayres of Brookline and Miss Miriam Butler of Boston. The gowns of the bridesmaids were of yellow chiffon trimmed with blue tulle. They wore blue tulle hats with yellow flowers. They carried bouquets of yellow Marguerites.

The best man was Mr. Cyril McNear of San Francisco, and the ushers were Mr. Charles E. Farnsworth of Brookline, Mr. Sutherland C. Dows of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Mr. Calvin Smith of Newton, Mr. Eastham Guild and James P. Stearns, 2nd, of Brookline.

A reception followed the ceremony, the house being tastefully decorated with roses, asparagus vines, palms and bridal wreath. In the receiving line the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Mills and Mrs. Chester Guild.

TRIANGLE CLUB

The members of the Triangle Club of the Newton Y. M. C. A. are giving their first annual entertainment next Tuesday evening at 7:45 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

The members are giving a short play called "Hiram Jones' Bet", with a moral, "not to bet."

They will be assisted by Miss Muriel French, the famous young violinist of Newtonville. Miss French will be heard in both familiar modern music, and new Bohemian numbers.

The reader they have for the evening will be Mrs. Ella Mackenzie, formerly of Newton Highlands, and no stranger to Newton audiences who will give among her various readings one that she has already given in Newton several hundred times. Jimmie Butler and the Hart, was ring bearer. J. T. Feeley.

UNION PICNIC

Riverside Recreation Grounds was the rendezvous yesterday for the Sunday School children of Newton Centre. This was the second Union Picnic which the children have enjoyed at Riverside.

From two o'clock until long after six there was "something doing" all the time for those who wished to participate in the various games and water sports.

The first hour was devoted to baseball, community games, and a tennis tournament. Elizabeth Bradbury won the girls' tennis match. The boys' match was not finished because of lack of time; finals will be played on the Newton Centre Playground Courts.

A spirited game was staged between two girls' baseball teams. The team captained by Geraldine Longwell won from Barbara Kendall's team by a score of 14 to 7. Those playing on the winning team were Geraldine Longwell, Elizabeth Plimpton, Lois Kendall, Clara Smith, Elizabeth Hawes, Mary Bond, Muriel McClelland, Louise Paul, Dorothy Plumer.

Through the efforts of a friend the committee in charge secured the service of some of Dingling Brothers' Circus clowns and animals. The circus consisted of a parade, clown stunts, Buddha, the world-famous elephant, a Rocky Mt. Teddy Bear, the trained Donkey Kickem, and a clown operation.

The Clowns were Wm. Cummings, Arnold Rich, C. Lincoln Brown, Mr. A. T. Leary and Buster Leary. Hand stands, head stands, somersaults, cart wheels and general rough and tumble work was their specialty. One of the clowns was taken sick and operated on by their leader, who found a watch, a clock, a string of sausages, and a tin can in the clown's stomach.

Ivan Collett took the bear act and Hughes Wagner and Hayden Chase when combined in their efforts made a fine elephant that could do all the stunts prescribed by the elephant trainer, Richard Cummings. Robert Lemon had a very fine time acting as Kickem the Donkey until Mr. Paul announced that $5,000 would be offered to the boy who could ride Kickem. A number tried but failed, but finally one boy did ride him and Kickem "lost his head." Dick Ward and Robinson Heath took the parts of two monkeys and entertained the young folks.

The aquatic sports are always most interesting to both boys and girls. Kenneth Howe won the tub race with George Brewer, second. In the girls' tilting match, Barbara Kendall and Peggy Pettigrew succeeded in splitting all comers while Walter Rayner and George Rising won for the boys.

The girls' relay race was won by a team consisting of Barbara Kendall, Helen Hamilton, Margaret Hill, and Peggy Pettigrew. A team with Evelyn Perry, Margaret Mason, Edith Porter, and Priscilla Sibley was second.

Barbara Kendall walked off with the 40 yd. swim with Helen Hamilton her nearest rival for first honors.

The committee in charge of the picnic were Wm. M. Breed, chairman, Allen Young, Albert Speare, Thos. Tilton, Norman B. Powers, S. B. Paul and A. T. Leary, Community Secretary.

BOY SCOUTS

Troop 4 Wins Water Meet

Troop 4 won an informal swimming meet held by the Boy Scouts at the Y. M. C. A. pool Wednesday night. The races were all closely contested, and the winner was not known until the last event. Troop 7 came in second, and troop 11 third. The winning relay race team consisted of scouts Phil Taylor, Dwight Taylor, Hazen and Weeks. Scout Taylor, Hazen and Weeks. Scout Taylor proved to be the star of the meet, swimming on the winning relay team and also pulling down a first and a second for his troop. In the diving "Bill" Phelps easily led the others with his exceptionally graceful dives.

The results of the meet were as follows: Relay race won by Troop 4; second Troop 7, 20-yard dash, first division won by Phelps of troop 7, second Hodgson of troop 5. Second division won by Hazen of troop 4. Second was Shanley of Troop 11.

Diving won by W. Phelps of troop 7, second Hazen of troop 4, third Hoyt of troop 7.

Following the races, the following members of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps gave demonstrations: Messrs. Tischoff, Hartford, Muir, Hofer, Adonis, Brooks and Waters. This was a wonderful showing of what can be done in the water, summersaults, submarines, log rolling, and all kinds of fancy stunts were done by the Corps. The most interesting was how drowning people are rescued, in the water, how the grip of a drowning person is broken, how they are towed to shore and resuscitated both with the Schaefer Method and with a lung motor. The team also showed fancy swimming and diving.

The results of the meet were as follows: Relay race won by Troop 4; second Troop 7, 20-yard dash, first division won by Phelps of troop 7, second Hodgson of troop 5. Second division won by Hazen of troop 4. Second was Shanley of Troop 11.

Diving won by W. Phelps of troop 7, second Hazen of troop 4, third Hoyt of troop 7.

The play abounds in laughable situations, and well illustrates the saying "What a tangled web we weave when first we practise to deceive."

Jones certainly finds himself in strange predicaments and meets the situations which arise with remarkable cleverness. A professor and his family are also involved, and who can see this play?

The play will be given at the following times: 7:45 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

The members are giving a short play called "Hiram Jones' Bet", with a moral, "not to bet."

They will be assisted by Miss Muriel French, the famous young violinist of Newtonville. Miss French will be heard in both familiar modern music, and new Bohemian numbers.

The reader they have for the evening will be Mrs. Ella Mackenzie, formerly of Newton Highlands, and no stranger to Newton audiences who will give among her various readings one that she has already given in Newton several hundred times. Jimmie Butler and the Hart, was ring bearer. J. T. Feeley.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

With this issue the Women's Clubs department closes its fifteenth season. The Club Editor would take this opportunity to thank the club officers for their uniform courtesy in the matter of giving out news of their activities. The department will be resumed in October with the opening of the new club season, when it is hoped that correspondents will accord the same punctiliousness in sending in reports and announcements that has characterized the past year.

Were the Editor to try to sum up the changes and the growth of club work in the fifteen years the story would fill a whole issue of the Graphic. It is impossible to give any idea of the increase in membership of the clubs of the city, but three very large ones have been organized within the last few years, the Newton Highlands Woman's, the Auburndale Woman's and the Community clubs, ranging from 400 to 500 members each; while the Newton Centre, the Newtonville Woman's and the Waban Woman's have greatly increased their membership. The Upper Falls Woman's is also a new club, though having a smaller constituency from which to draw.

As account of the philanthropic work which has been done would be a whole story in itself, while a sum total of the money contributions would doubtless mount up into the thousands of dollars.

The future of the club movement is impossible to predict, but it is at least conceivable to believe that it has had its day and with the attainment of suffrage so near at hand, that there will be no further use for the clubs where matters may be treated from a non-partisan point of view. Time, however, will reveal the trend which it will take.

Biennial Notes

The Massachusetts delegation augmented by those from the other New England states will leave Boston for Des Moines on Monday, June 14. A meeting of the delegates to receive information and instructions relative to the trip was held at the New England Woman's Club rooms on Friday of last week. A point of particular importance was the presentation of the proposed re-organization of the General Federation.

The unwieldiness of the Biennial was never more apparent than at the New York convention, when the only building that would accommodate the large number of delegates was so large that few of those present could really hear much of anything which was done. At that time the number of delegates was cut in halves and the alternates were done away with altogether. Now comes another proposition—not altogether new, for it was brought up in a similar form fifteen or twenty years ago—that of making the membership by federations state and territorial, rather than by individual clubs. In this way every club belonging to a state federation would also be a member of the General Federation without any vote upon its own part and would have to pay dues through its state treasury to the General treasury. It is a logical plan, yet it has disadvantages and the wisdom of the change can better be decided when the discussion is heard in the convention. For some states it would work well while in others it would work ill. How it will effect the General organization and what is best for the whole country is of course, the thing which the delegates must bear in mind when voting.

In the way of representation it will mean, should it be adopted, that the clubs will no longer appoint their own delegates and no woman can represent her own club, but all will be appointed by the State Board and each woman will represent her state. The result upon the state federations will differ in different cases. There are clubs belonging to them who never have joined the General Federation and certain ones which probably never would. Will they withdraw from their state organization when they find they must pay dues for the General? It is inconceivable to think they would, yet it is a possibility. The plan of organization is probably the ideal thing, but often times the ideal thing does not work out practically. It is a question in many minds if this will, yet if it will, it is the thing which should be tried.

The question of membership and of representation are the most important points presented. The others have more bearing upon the convenience of carrying on of the work. At New York the executive board was enlarged so that every state or territory has its own director, making a board of more than fifty members an unwieldy body to say the least. The question of retaining these directors will also come up.

It is proposed to have the corresponding secretary appointed by the board immediately after its election and that she comes from the same state or an adjacent state to that of the president. The reason for this is to save time in the matter of correspondence, looking toward a more efficient carrying on of the business. The proposition to eliminate the auditor, to leave the approval of bills to the Finance committee and to have the auditing done by experts is also a move toward simplification and more businesslike methods. The elimination of State Federation secretaries is nothing new, the small states with few clubs feel that they are not necessary and cannot see the situation in states where there are hundreds of clubs with thousands of members, where consequently the presidents have no time for more than their own prescribed duties. At New York in 1916 it was proposed to eliminate these Federation secretaries, but it was voted down at that time and should be this.

These are all very important matters and should receive earnest attention on the part of the delegates, so it is hoped that they will realize their duty in this matter and not skip the business sessions, as delegates too frequently do. Every vote of every delegate will be needed.

So far as it has been possible to secure the names, the following Newton women are planning to attend the Biennial: Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Miss Georgia H. Emery of Newton; Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Henry V. Jones of Newtonville; Mrs. Dodge of West Newton; Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson, Mrs. Nathan N. Dennett, Miss Ella B. Smith of Auburndale.

Mass Meeting on Junior High Schools

In spite of the rain a good number of parents and interested persons attended the meeting at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday evening called by the Education committees of the Community and Social Science clubs for the consideration of the question of Junior High Schools. Mrs. Harry Lutz, president of the Social Science Club, was in the chair.

Mr. Frank W. Wright, deputy commissioner of Education for the state, gave a very clear and forceful presentation of the idea and the aim of this new trend in education. Some 30 years ago President Charles W. Eliot made a suggestion in this line, but it did not find particular favor, for it was practically bringing down some of the high school subjects into the grades. About 12 years ago a different plan along this same line was adopted in Berkeley, Cal., and since then the idea has been gradually travelling eastward, one of the few educational features which has come from the West to the East.

The plan is to segregate the 7th and 8th grades of the grammar schools with the first year of the high school, beginning gradually to give the pupils some choice in their studies and also to accustom them to departmental work, that is, instead of heretofore, of having the same teacher for all the subjects, they will begin to have different teachers for different subjects, not quite so specialized as in the high school, but enough of it for the scholar to get used to reciting to different persons. This makes the transition from the grades to the high school less sudden than at present. The promotion is by subjects rather than by years, so if a scholar fails in one subject it does not mean a repetition of all that has been done before. The present method is deadly in that it encourages the habit of failure, instead of emphasizing the partial success. This repetition of only the subjects in which the pupil has failed is a matter of economy to the city. A child normally enters the junior high school at 12 years before it is possible to stop school and carries him by the 14 year limit, so there is a tendency to keep him in school for a longer time and oftentimes to complete the high school course, which he might not have done had their been graduation from the grammar school just at the time when he might have legally gone to work.

Underlying the whole scheme is the subtle psychological fact that it takes the child at the period when adolescence is just beginning, when he is changing not only physically but also mentally and adapts the work to the changing conditions. The first year the course is largely prescribed, but the succeeding years there is a larger element of choice. Time formerly occupied with sewing and manual training will be used by the boys for shop work and by the girls in household management, budget making, and domestic science. The boys are given opportunities in different sorts of occupations, thus helping them to find out what they like and perhaps what is even more important, what they do not want to enter and thereby saving many misfits in after life.

Superintendent of Schools Wheeler followed Mr. Wright and explained the specific problems confronting Newton, and Mr. Everett E. Kent of the school committee explained the plans for Newton, giving the proposed locations of the four buildings which the joint committee was to present to the Board of Aldermen at the hearing. Much interest was expressed in the matter and considerable discussion followed and those who were present felt the subject had been clarified in their minds.

Shallowness.

Shallow waters show a very clear bottom and but little intensity of light is needed in order to display the pebbles and clear sand. That must be a "purest ray serene"—a pencil of strongest light—which discloses the black, rich, wreck-strewn depths. For the clearness of depth is very different from the clearness of shallowness. The former is a positive quality. The latter is negative.—Charles Warren Stoddard.

SUNDAY SPORTS

To the Editor of The Graphic:—In connection with my letter which you so kindly published in The Graphic two weeks ago on the subject of baseball it was interesting to find that in last week's paper under the heading of baseball, a note stated that a certain team would play another team at Lower Falls on Saturday and that on Sunday the same well-known team would play at Waltham. This seemed to me just another scheme to get our boys to go away from home on Sunday and is just what we must expect.

Every mother will now have another problem to solve, and she must be ready.

Of course to begin with it is to be understood that law allows people to do things which are sometimes very bad for them. It allows a man to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel. It has until recently allowed people to get drunk on Sunday on any day; and it allowed five young college men to start to climb Mt. Monadnock in mid-winter on snowshoes, without a guide and in just sweaters and caps. One of the young men lost his life, but there was no law to prevent him except the laws of common sense and right living. Because the laws say I may do a certain thing does not mean that I am going to do it.

Then to go on there is a time suitable for everything: a certain proportion of our time should be given to play and a certain time to family life. Suppose that my father was only going to be with me this year, and that I should never after have a chance to be with him again. Should I not value the Sunday afternoon when he is home and when he has a few hours to talk over matters with me and give me all his heart?

The years of youth are so short, they fly so fast, every Sunday is precious to the family life. We cannot spare the boys.

It, however, the boys are determined to play, where shall they play? Trust them to find a place, and mothers and fathers have a plain duty here. They should be present. Grown people should be with them and the City Fathers and City Mothers can do no better work than this. The Police Department will need more officers on duty Sundays, and every Park should be carefully looked after. No fighting allowed, no profanity, no betting, no craps, and the police service must be maintained whatever the expense. This is very different from golf, for the golf clubs have their own very strict rules, and a law to themselves. Here there is no law, just license.

When visiting on Long Island last summer, the lobster man, a good hearted old soul but not apparently one of the first citizens wanted to give us some 25 cent tickets to the ball game for Sunday afternoon. I was told that that was all there was to do."

All there was to do when life is so full, so short and so precious! The same individual was in the habit of frequently spending his nights at poker, and sleeping a large part of the day, and what he does for a drink now I'm sure I don't know. Mothers and teachers must be ready with precept and example. Do you want to be like this when you grow up? What you are now you will be then.

Not long since, an old friend told me that when he was a boy he used to go to Town Meeting and it was great fun. He would hear all kinds of questions discussed and argued. Finally they would shout, "Divide the house! Divide the house!" His Uncle John stood for right principles and square dealing and when he saw the ones on Uncle John's side and compared them with the rabble on the other side he thought he wanted to be with Uncle John.

It has been said that we should make it as easy as possible for people to be good and as hard for them to be bad. Each mother has her problem and the permission of the city allowing Sunday sports helps her only in one way; it can assure greater independence of action, and the personal assurance to every one that a lawyer is not needed to tell one what is right and what is wrong.

Mrs. H. R. Turner.

GARDEN NEWS

Water the Garden

The past few weeks of dry weather have started many home gardeners to watering. It is regrettable to note the common method practised. This method is to sprinkle the garden every evening without getting enough water on to really be of great value. To do the thing right one should water so that the water will soak down one to two inches deep. This will require a tremendous amount of water. It is well then to follow this watering the next day with a hoeing in order to make the surface soil mulch, or blanket, which will tend to conserve the water in the ground for the use of the vegetables. Watering practised in this manner will not have to be duplicated for some time. The other type of watering tends to encourage the root system of the plants to develop near the surface of the ground. This is harmful in that the root system will be up where the dry periods will injure it all the more.

Beware of Bean Rust

Most home gardens include beans as one of their vegetables. Many home gardeners are familiar with the farmers' practise of not doing a thing to or in among their beans when they are damp. Rust is a fungus disease which spreads very quickly when there is dampness upon the vines. Beans should not be hoed, picked, or one should not work among the bean rows, when they are damp in the morning after the dew or after the rain.

Summer Greens

The doctors are telling us that we do not eat sufficient quantity of greens. Spinach is the common green grown in the garden during the spring and late fall. It does not do well during mid-summer as the warm weather sends it spindling up to seed. An earlier article suggested New Zealand spinach as a good summer green. This can still be safely planted. Swiss chard is another summer green that can be safely planted at the present time.

Save Fertilizer Around Home

The writer has a neighbor who saves the kitchen garbage and buries it in his garden daily. This is a most excellent practice. If followed up for some length of time the garbage from the home applied to the garden will very materially increase its fertility. This neighbor also has spaded up a spot where he proposes to have a garden during succeeding years. This year he is spending his energy in getting the witch grass under control, and will shortly see the piece with clover, being careful to lime the area well. This clover will be spaded as under as a green manure crop. The clover furnishes a large quantity of humus to the soil which practically all back yard gardens crave, and in addition will add a lot of nitrogen to the soil which the clover collects from the air. Nitrogen is the most expensive element in our fertilizers; therefore any plant that will gather this element from the air and add it to the soil in a form which the plant can readily use, is a great friend of the home gardener. Let's see to it that we plant clover in all vacant spots in our garden.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Centre Girl Scouts Give "Midsummer Night's Dream"

In the beautiful setting of the Bishop's estate, Newton Centre, fittingly called "Puck's Dell" the Newton Centre Girl Scouts gave "A Midsummer Night's Dream" on Tuesday afternoon.

Here, an interested audience watched Theseus, Duke of Athens, and his court, and sympathized with the troubles of the lovers. Here, too, Nick Bottom the weaver, and the other actors played the tragedy of "Pyramus and Thisbe", and Bottom was transformed into an ass beloved of Titania, and the fairies and their train held high revels.

The men's parts always the more difficult to play, were very well done, both Demetrius and Lysander (Faith Additon and Evelyn Perry) being very convincing, while Bottom, (Eliza Beth Donovan) showed marked dramatic ability. Indeed, she made a decided hit with a four-footed member of the audience when she appeared with the ass's head. The death of Pyramus and Thisbe won much applause from the audience.

The fairies were charming, seemingly belonging to their background, while Gretchen Cook as Oberon, King of the fairies, made an exquisite picture never to be forgotten.

In thinking of "Midsummer Night's Dream," one thinks first of all of Puck. Indeed, that sprite may be said to be the hero—or villain as you choose—since it is his deeds which cause the lovers' troubles, and later, their happiness. The part of Puck was admirably taken by Narcissa Varney who looked as well as acted her part.

The cast included fifty-two members. Too much praise cannot be given to those who rehearsed the actors, both in their lines and in their dancing. To have learned even a small part of a play of Shakespeare is something of an achievement.

At the close of the performance Miss Donovan presented Miss Priscilla Ordway, who has been the Captain of the troop for four years with a "Thanks Badge" in recognition on the part of the troop of her work with them. Miss Ordway has recently won the Golden Eagle, an honor won by few girls on the Corps.

The Bugle and Drum Corps gave a short exhibition. The girls did remarkably well and as this Corps grows as we hope it will, it will be a great addition to the Scout work in the City.

Troop 4 won the Banner. Troop 2 has had it since the last Rally when they won it and now Troop 4 will hold it until the next one.

The following Merit Badges were given out:

Ambulance—Troop 1, Scouts Katherine Dobyns, Muriel Burgess, Ruth Baker, Ruth Hardracker, Irma Bachmann, Elma Skilton, Mabel Gibberd, Elizabeth Leighton.

GIRL SCOUTS

WORLD NEEDS THE ELDERLY

On Saturday, June 5th, the Girl Scouts of Newton had their Spring Rally. This was to have been an outdoor rally, but owing to the drenching rain, it had to be held in the Gymnasium of the Newton High School.

The rain made a good deal of difference in the attendance, but in spite of the bad weather, a large number of girls were present and each of the seven troops was well represented.

There were the usual competitive events. They were as follows: Drilling, one patrol from each troop entering. This was won by Troop 4. Troop 3 came in second. All the troops showed marked improvement in their marching.

There were two semaphore signalling contests; one for girls who had only been signalling for a short time and the other for those who had been practising longer. The first of these the Novice Semaphore race was won by Troop 5, Troop 2 getting second.

The senior semaphore team was won by Troop 3 and Troop 4 was second.

The knotting contest was won by Troop 4, Troop 2 getting second. This event was quite close as 4 of the teams tied all their knots correctly. The obstacle race was won by Troop 7. Troop 3 is only 3 weeks old and it was decided that at their first rally the girls of this Troop should win a blue ribbon. Troop 2 came in second.

The fire-building contest which is a feature at the open air Rally had to be omitted. This was a great disappointment as the scouts had been preparing for this event for sometime and all were keen to be the winners in this fire-building without paper, and only 2 matches, boiling water contest.

The special feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the Golden Eagle to Captain Ordway of Troop 3. Captain Ordway is the second Scout in Newton to receive this award. She is a first class Scout and has won the 14 Merit Badges required to be awarded this medal besides a number of others. Mrs. Albert Carter presented the medal and the Troop made the old Gymnasium ring with their cheers as this highest honor which a Scout may win was presented to her.

Another special feature of the afternoon's program was the Bugling and Drumming Contests. The Local Director offered two cups, one for the Champion Bugler, in the Bugle and Drum Corps and one for the Champion Drummer. Scout Elizabeth Plimpton of Troop 3 won the Bugling Contest and Scout Nancy Kimball of Troop 4 the Drumming. This contest was most interesting. The cups will be held by the winners until the next rally when they will be tried for again. The names of the winner will be engraved on the cups.

The Bugle and Drum Corps gave a short exhibition. The girls did remarkably well and as this Corps grows as we hope it will, it will be a great addition to the Scout work in the City.

Troop 4 won the Banner. Troop 2 has had it since the last Rally when they won it and now Troop 4 will hold it until the next one.

The following Merit Badges were given out:

Ambulance—Troop 1, Scouts Katherine Dobyns, Muriel Burgess, Ruth Baker, Ruth Hardracker, Irma Bachmann, Elma Skilton, Mabel Gibberd, Elizabeth Leighton.

Troop 2—Captain Ball, Scouts Edith Pearson, Doris Paine.

WORLD NEEDS THE ELDERLY

Their Ripened Experience and Developed Judgment Make Them of Value to the Community.

Hardly anyone, if indeed anyone at all, holds at thirty-five that he was wiser when he was twenty-five, or says at fifty that he knew more, and had better judgment, when he was thirty-five. Yet young men are prone to look upon older men as being dispensable. If a man could live to be two hundred years old, retaining his mental faculties unimpaired, leading an active life as a member of a profession or a man in business, his ripened experience, his developed judgment, his vista, would make him worth as much as a dozen youngsters in many respects.

Dr. William Mayo of Minnesota, unlike Doctor Osler who retired disappointed and never really explained when he made his famous declaration and gave to the English language the term "soberized," says old men are the nation's greatest assets. Aboriginal savages said the same thing. The aged Indian at the council fire was worth a score of young bucks on the battle line.

One of the most valuable uses to which the experience of old men is put is detecting the sophistries of extremists and resisting agitators who urge pernicious innovation.

Doctor Mayo believes 15 years added to the average life since the Civil war constitutes a task only half done. Another 15 years may be added by medical and surgical science plus education which will lead to early adoption of measures to preserve health.

The slogan, "A short life and a merry one," shortens life. Doctor Mayo says and robs a race of a social element—hate and useful seniors—upon which a value too high cannot be set.

Assuredly, a sane life and a long one is desirable from the point of view of both the state and individual.

The man who believes at fifty, or sixty, or seventy, that his judgment is better than it formerly was is altogether right.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ALASKAN GOLD-LODE MINING

Already Profitable, the Completion of the Government Railroad Will Aid in Its Development.

Twenty-five gold-lode mines were operated in Alaska in 1918, according to the United States geological survey, department of the interior. There was also a production from seven prospects—abandoned mines or small mines that were not in regular operation. The value of the gold-lode output decreased from $4,581,453 in 1917 to $3,473,317 in 1918, owing partly to the disaster at the Treadwell mine in April, 1917, and partly to curtailment of operations, especially in the Juneau district, because of shortage of labor.

Southeastern Alaska, especially the Juneau district, is still the only center of large quartz-mining operations in the territory. Next in importance is the Willow Creek lode district. The production in the Fairbanks district decreased materially, as the lode-mines owned by the miners are still awaiting the cheapening of operating costs, especially of fuel, which is expected on the completion of the government railroad. In 1918 the average value of the gold and silver contents for all the gold and silver contents was $1.70 a ton; the average for 1917 was $1.37 a ton. These averages reflect the dominance in the total lode production of the large tonnage produced from the large-grade ores of the Juneau district.

Absence Sometimes Evidence of Tact. Sometimes it's an evidence of tact when people absent themselves. Only big people can do it. Children and childish adults have to hang around with open mouths and staring eyes lest something escape them. They are the omnipresent nuisances that make you want to tell them things. Really big people can afford to let others do a few things without permission. What others do ought not to distract you from what you do unless what you attempt is so small that it takes little to overshadow it. Besides it's only fair that others should have an opportunity of showing what they can do. The world will think more of you if you give it a chance to pass judgment on its efforts. And what is more obstruction w<sup>o</sup>

SENATOR WEEKS' OPINION

On the Recent Republican National Convention and the Nominee for President

In response to a request for his opinion on the Republican National convention and the nomination of Senator Harding for President former United States Senator John W. Weeks of West Newton has written the following letter:—

John C. Brimblecom,
Editor Newton Graphic,
Dear Mr. Brimblecom:

I am very glad to answer your inquiry about the Convention and particularly about Senator Harding, not only because you have asked it, but because many of my neighbors have done so.

Everyone must remember that a national convention held in a great city and attended by thousands of visitors necessarily develops a very confused situation, and too much reliance should not be placed on all the newspaper reports, honestly expressed though they are, coming from the convention city. The political news is often necessarily hastily gathered, and too often are the reports based on rumor instead of fact. And in a con-

We congratulate you heartily on having completed your course and achieved the results for which you have worked so long and faithfully. Whatever your plans for the future, we wish you the best of success.

For any boy or girl to start out in life without a Savings Account is like a ship starting on a long voyage without a rudder. During these calm June days it may seem unnecessary, but when storms and troubles arise it is a vital necessity.

If you have not already done so, we urge you to start a Savings Account, and get the habit of putting away a certain sum regularly.

We are paying four and a half per cent interest from the first of each month. You will be surprised how quickly money saved regularly mounts up. Come to our nearest office and start now, if only with a single dollar.

MISS DRAKE'S PUPILS' RECITAL

Y. M. C. A. Hall, Newton

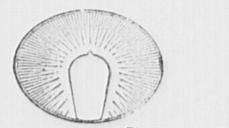

On the evening of June 12, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Newton, some of Miss Almeda Drake's pupils played a program of piano-forte music. The numbers ranged from the simplest little "first piece" to Paderewski's "Menet in G," Rubinstein's "Melody in F" and Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso." The playing showed more fine qualities than are usually seen at a recital of this sort, not only the qualities of courage, judgment, responsibility and pose that one expects incidentally from musical training, but the more particular excellencies that are developed by careful, conscientious, correct habits at the piano and the feeling for fine music that grows as one studies. The choice of numbers and their execution were far above the average.

Those taking part were:

Barbara Billings, Elizabeth Ariend, Malcolm Farquhar, Chelise Cook, Eileen Nolan, Emily Dunleavy, Madeline Hagar, Dorothy Allen, Katherine Nixon, Marjorie Chapman, Emma Skilton, Lisbeth Leighton, Lois Harwood, Elizabeth Leighton, Edmund Woodward, Muriel Bassett, Elizabeth Bennett, Dorothy Leighton, Sylvia Chapman, Morton Ingraham, Dorothy Bellamy, Lucy Allen.

ELKS FLAG DAY

Newton Lodge of Elks observed Flag Day last Monday with appropriate exercises in their lodge room in Eliot Block, Newton. The affair was public and a large audience was attracted by the announced program, which included the history of the flag by Dr. Howard Moore, an oration by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, and a tribute to the flag by Mr. P. Sarsfield Cuniff. Dancing followed the formal exercises.

ROOTED DISLIKE FOR JAPS

Chinese Look With Suspicious Eyes on Actions of the Subjects of the Mikado.

It was in the quaint, terraced city of Foochow, China. The bearers of my sedan chair pointed out to me a fine gray building against the hillside and exhausted their collective store of English trying to tell me what it was. "Japanese hospital," said one, with a knowing air, as if he could say more if he would.

"To cure sick Japanese?" I asked, wondering whether there was a sufficiently large colony to support an institution of such size.

It took some time for this question to percolate through their heads. When at last it did so, there was more excitement in their answers than mere statements of facts would warrant.

"Japanese make Chinese well, Japanese say 'Chinese man—him very sick; must make well!'"

There was inarticulate sarcasm in their manner. At last one of them found the English he was after, and came out with it: "Japanese no love Chinese man," he said. "Then why make Chinese man well?"

It seems that Japanese were beginning to realize that American philanthropy, represented by the missions and by the Rockefeller foundation, was creating good-will for the United States. So they, too, decided to become philanthropists, and some fine Japanese hospitals for the Chinese were the result. The Chinese, however, still distrust the move. They cannot be sure that it has the genuine unselfishness of Christian propaganda. They tell tales about machine guns concealed in the hospitals and soldiers who reconnoiter by night. I never heard these rumors substantiated, but I did meet a seemingly benevolent young surgeon and a Japanese nurse with the sweetest face in the world.—Marjorie Barstow in World Outlook.

WORE OLD DUTCH HEADGEAR

Rochester Woman Excited Comment by Appearing in Court With Picturesque Adornment.

The costume of Mrs. Julia Vos in a Rochester court excited much attention. Mrs. Vos is the grandmother of two children over whom there was litigation after the parting of their parents. The aged woman is a native of Friesland, Holland.

She appeared in court with an old Dutch headgear that would have delighted the heart of the painter Van Dyk. On the sides of her coiffure were two thin gold plates bound tightly to her head which kept her hair pressed close above her ears. The plates are slightly concave, of the finest old burnished gold and fitted the contour of her head. Over her gold plates was an old Friesland lace bonnet, ivory colored from age, a treasure of her maiden days. The little frilled lace visor in front of the bonnet was a marvel of the lace maker's art, and a 6-inch frill made of some stiffened material like malines net fanned out behind her neck and over her shoulders like a ruffle of Sir Walter Raleigh. In a quaint observance of the customs of the land of her adoption Mrs. Vos had surmounted her artistic headgear with a gloriously black high-cocked bonnet.

Those who know boys know that to keep a boy busy is to keep him out of trouble. Most trouble originates by idleness, but there are very few idle minutes in camp. With hikes, swims, baseball, boating, canoeing, nature study, military drill, stunt nights, sings, Woodcraft, and camp duties, a boy cannot say, "there is nothing to do."

Among the things to be added to our equipment this year will be a baseball field, two tennis courts, and a new tent-house which will accommodate eight additional boys. Last year through the kindness of several parents and friends we were able to add to the equipment, one boat, one canoe, a diving float, a new stove, a scale, three new tents, and a flag and flag pole.

The following boys will attend camp this year and others will be added later: From Newton—Franco Montanari, Edmund L. Leeds, Jr., Sidney Ussher, Walter F. Shanley, Dwight Colburn, George Colburn, George Wrye, William B. Pearce, Monroe Soch, Thos. Gotshall, Jr., Albert E. Holdridge, John Wales, Henry Pampham, Kirtz Stewell, and Willard Dodge.

From Newtonville and West Newton—Edwin Nash, Anthony Gleason, J. Hayward Woolston, Phillips, B. Hoyt, Franklin Hoyt, William P. Carley, Stanley Kimball, Marshall Glazier, Luther S. Moore, William B. Lodge, Harold T. Lodge, Edward W. Stearns, Gordon Stewart, Robert Sawyer, Harland P. Sisk.

From Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, and Waban—Otis Robinson, Ward Schoenfeld, Gordon White, Franklin M. Cobleigh, Ezra F. Stevens, Lloyd E. Hazen, Kenneth Howe, James B. Colton, William T. Harper.

WALDORF THEATRE—Exceptionally beautiful scenery is shown in the American classic, "In Old Kentucky," featuring Anita Stewart, which will be shown at the Waldorf Theatre next week, beginning Monday.

The rough and rugged mountains, the deep ravines, the crystal clear mountain streams rushing and tumbling down the steep gullies lends enchantment to this thrilling picture of a mountain girl, who though born among the outlawed moonshiners, wins her way to love and success through her intrepid daring and strength of heart.

Causes of Thunderstorm

Two kinds of thunderstorms are generally recognized—one due to heat and usually local, and the other accompanying the squalls forming in the southern sectors of low pressure areas. A third type, "storms of cold," has been lately added by a French meteorologist. It occurs as cold air travels southward into a region of high temperature and southerly upper winds. The clouds forming the southern limit of the cold wave develop thunderstorms, which are carried northward by the upper south wind, this traveling backward through the zone of cold air.

MAKE BOATS WINTER HOMES

Londoners Partially Solve Housing Question by Living on the Thames Close to the City.

The housing question is being solved in a novel way between Thames Ditton and Hampton court. Unable to obtain a room occupants of houseboats are continuing to live in their floating homes, and in one backwater, 13 miles from London, houseboats are actually being built for winter occupation, London Answers states.

They are moored by a tree-sheltered bank. But you are too late to apply for them—they are all taken. One wonders what will happen when the floods begin.

Bungalow, which usually see no human soul save during the hot weather, are also finding winter tenants. A five-room bungalow on Thames Ditton Island cost 25 shillings a week until April. There may be a few of these left. One is at present occupied by a demolished soldier, but whether he will find Thames mists easier to stand than Flanders mud remains to be seen. For the time being he is quite cheerful, however, and having sought a house in vain, does not mind at having to start his journey to London each day by boat.

Our ideas change according to our necessities. It was stated the other day that a distracted man had applied to the government to let him a "pill box."

Lord Morris in a lecture at St. John's Wood Presbyterian church, Marylebone place, London, described the development of Newfoundland for the last 400 years, "from the time of the early colonizers up to the day when that great captain of industry, Lord Northcliffe, established the great paper mills that are now supplying the Times, the Daily Mail, the Daily Mirror and the Sunday Pictorial with paper."

He said that in Newfoundland today there were many paper "propositions" quite as attractive, if properly developed, as that of Lord Northcliffe and his brother, Lord Rothermere.

There were also sufficient fish on the Newfoundland banks and along the Newfoundland and Labrador shores to feed the whole of the British empire.

They had only touched the fringe of that great fishing industry in which lay the possibilities of cheap food for England.

Lord Morris drew an attractive picture of wonderful mineral possibilities, showing that Newfoundland was the second largest producer of iron in the British empire, England coming first.

There was enough iron ore to supply all the needs of the British empire and of the world for the next hundred years.

To Keep American Ships on the Seas

For the first time since the Civil War we have a real merchant marine. It cost us $3,000,000,000 to get it.

The farmer, manufacturer, laborer—every American is interested in holding our position on the seas.

As a first step in this direction it is necessary to modify those articles of existing commercial treaties which have operated to thwart the upbuilding of our merchant marine.

By giving the notice of termination for which the several treaties provide.

This action is directed in the constructive Shipping Bill now before Congress;

Which declares it to be the policy of the United States "to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage" a merchant marine.

This policy deserves the support of every American.

Lacking this support the present effort to maintain our merchant marine may suffer the fate of many ineffective attempts of the past.

MORE SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUR VACATION BOOKSHELF

That we, of the twentieth century, are living in days when great history is being made, is a fact often glibly stated and easily recognized by all, yet it is startling when one considers the vast accumulation of knowledge required to even partially evaluate current events. Continually national interests are being woven more closely and inextricably into a great web of nationalism so that it is increasingly important for us to understand conditions not only between the various classes in our own country but also those existing in Ireland or China. Not only are our political and geographical interests broadening, but the study of science, particularly psychology as related to human activity, is progressing with equal rapidity. At times one is overwhelmed by the quantity of background information required to read even the daily newspaper intelligently. Authorities in these various realms have foreseen the difficulty of the average person and have written not too highly specialized books in their particular fields—books that are interesting in their presentation and alluring in their revelations. ## GARDEN NEWS

Plant Lice

This is the time when plant lice are first making their appearance in the garden. Plant lice, or aphids, are becoming more numerous each succeeding year. They started in on apples eight or nine years ago, and different members of the same family are now making their appearance on most fruits, vegetables, and flowers. Plant lice vary in size and color. They are a very destructive pest as they breed in large numbers. They feed by sucking the plant juices, and when present in large numbers it does not take long for them to kill plants. The aphid thrusts its sharp bill through the leaf of the plant and sucks the juices from within. They can be controlled by a contact spray, the purpose of which is to burn the tender body of the aphid, and to close the breathing pores which kills them by suffocating them. Our arsenical poisons, such as arsenate of lead, will not control these insects because they do not eat leaf surface but suck the juice from within.

The popular contact spray for plant lice is a 40 per cent. nicotine sulphate solution, the common brand on the market being known as Black Leaf 40. Nicotine sulphate should be used at the rate of 1½ teaspoonsful Black Leaf 40, 1 cubic inch of soap per gallon of water. The soap helps as a spreader and sticker for the mixture, and should always be added when the Black Leaf 40 is used alone. This suggestion is stronger than what is recommended on the manufacturer's package, but we find the added strength is necessary to give most satisfactory results. If you do not get the bugs, the bugs will get you!

Succession Planting

Home gardeners should not forget to put in plantings every ten days or two weeks of string beans, sweet corn, and other vegetables which the family is fond of, in order that there may be a supply of these vegetables available for use over a long period.

Plant Kale Now

This is the right time for the planting of kale. Kale is a winter green and the leaves are boiled and eaten the same as beets or chard. It has a mild cabbage flavor, and is very ornamental, resembling a gigantic parsnip, having the same curled

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

One hundred and two seniors graduated last Friday night from the Newton Technical High School, more than two-thirds of whom have already secured employment.

The program opened with prayer by the Rev. Robert L. Rae, pastor of the North Church at Nonantum, and included both vocal and instrumental music. The violin trio, "Lift Thine Eyes," from the Elijah, was given by Edna Tuttle, '20; Gertrude Priest, '20, and Charles Laffle, '21, accompanied by Inez McCormack at the piano.

The essays of the graduates included the following: "Some Biological Effects of War," by Stephen John Bennett; "And the Greatest of These Is War," by Beatrice Hayes Wilson; "The Cost of War," by Alastair Fraser; "Victors of Peace," by Margaret Frances Walsh; "The Moral Effects of War," by Joseph Hurley, President of the Senior Class.

The address to the graduating class was made by Rev. J. Edgar Park. The class gifts were presented by Adeline Bernadette Vara. These included twelve pictures for the class rooms, a tapestry cover for the library piano, two bookcases, a bronze tablet, bearing the American Creed, and another bronze tablet in the form of a memorial and bearing the names of those pupils who gave up their lives in the war.

The honor medal awarded by the Mass. Society, S. A. R., to the pupil excelling in the study of American History, was presented by the headmaster, Mr. Irving O. Palmer, to Harriet C. Bowman, while honorable mention was given to Genevieve L. Boughan, Effie M. Mackay, Adrienne E. Smith, and Dorothy Manter.

Our Country's Motto.

"E Pluribus Unum" was first suggested as the motto of the United States by Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, in August, 1776, they having been appointed a committee to choose a design for the great seal. It is claimed by some that the motto was suggested by a similar inscription used by the Gentleman's Magazine, a popular publication of that time. It first appeared on coins in New Jersey in 1780, when copper money was issued by that state.

ALL BOWED BEFORE PATTI

Famous Cantatrice Adored as Probably No Other Singer of Any Generation Has Been.

The death of Patti, the adored diva of our grandmothers, would have been a calamity if it had taken place in their time. She was not only an exquisite singer, but a woman unique for beauty, charm and loveliness. I knew her well. And how interesting it was to hear her talk of her youth. She vowed that she sang as the birds sing, from babyhood. An acquaintance tells me that he was at Ascot races on the day of Patti's debut, and came to hear her, and how, when, tiny, black-eyed and sweet, she came onto the stage at Covent Garden, not a hand was raised to greet her. But she sang. "And then it was as if the house had been of straw and had caught fire. People went mad over her."

Later Patti went to St. Petersburg. They strewed the stage with roses and camellias for her to walk on, and gave her diamonds and pearls in caskets. I remember her showing me a little Russian ring. It was a stave of gold, and on it were the notes in diamonds, la, do, re—L'Adore. A charming idea.

Not enough has been said of Patti's warm heart. She never forgot an old friend, and never neglected one; even when poor William Ganz was past playing accompaniments the diva let him play to her own despite. Ganz wore a wig—wigs, in fact—to deceive his best friends—wigs which he changed from week to week to suggest that his hair was growing. Patti knew all about it, and with "Maitre, your hair wants cutting," would send him off to the barber—the wig cabinet—for the shortest-haired one. And the round of deception would begin again—London Mail.

MEANT TO HOUSE NAPOLEON

Historic New Orleans Building, Long the Mecca of Governors of the State, Is for Sale.
 The Gem cafe, famous in New Orleans history as the rendezvous where the rescue of Napoleon from Saint Helena was plotted, where the first mardi gras parade was planned, where the state legislature met and worked out a campaign against the carpet-bag rule, where the exclusive Pickwick club was formed and where governors of Louisiana for years have held their discussions over coffee cups and wine glasses, is for sale.

Originally the home of a Spanish nobleman, the landmark of Rue Royal, which was a coffee house just across Rue Royal in the days when the "Senate" America's Monte Carlo, was running, is said to antedate the old "Absinthe house" which has been a mecca for New Orleans tourists. In late years despite the development of modern restaurants, the Gem cafe has been the political eating house of leaders in state affairs and has been visited by every governor since Louisiana has been a state.

—The audience left the church they were presented with a leaflet containing the Roll of Honor, and Miss Eden's Poem of Dedication. The Roll of Honor follows:

—Mrs. Elizabeth L. Chamberlin, Miss Edith Jordan, Miss Annette Monroe, Milton Barnes, George Bennett, George Burnham, Albert S. Carling, Percy E. Eden, Joseph Feola, Carl B. Graves, Harry Gray, William Haddon, Richard M. Hill, G. Sydney Hill, Fred W. Hubbard, Ralph Leacy, Edgar E. Library, Donald Moore, Dr. Howard Moore, Walter Moore, Theodore H. Morton, Walter R. Paine, F. Robson Reid, H. Clark Reid, Harold W. M. Secord, Dr. Walter N. Secord, Ralph W. Walker, Harry B. Ward, William D. Ward, Ernest H. Woodworth, Everett Woodworth.

Armless Painters Win Fame.

Some years ago in London I saw fine water-color landscapes by an artist who had lost both arms, writes a reader to the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian. His name, if I remember rightly, was Bertram Hiles, and he held his brush (a rather long one) between his teeth when painting.

—And at the Edinburgh School of Art some twelve years ago or more there was a student who also was armless, though he held his crayon or pencil with his toes.

Then there was the case of Daniel Vierge, the Spaniard. At one time Vierge was a facile but not greatly distinguished magazine illustrator, and his reputation was confined to his own country. But becoming paralyzed in his right side and losing the entire use of his right arm he learned to use his left, developed a new style influenced by the slower execution, and gained an international reputation as a pen and ink draughtsman.

Script or Print Writing?

There is a movement in England to abolish script writing and replace it by print writing. The characters used in the proposed system are the ordinary printed letters known as the Roman block letters with the exception of "a" and "g," which are simplified into their script forms. Print characters were used centuries ago by monks before script writing became the fashion. Advocates of the proposed reform claim that it has many advantages over ordinary handwriting, particularly in that the child learns much more quickly. Many British educational authorities favor print writing and it is taught in numerous British schools. There is no waste of time on the innumerable joinings of letters, and superfluous loops and flourishes are abolished. At least one big London firm has adopted the system.

New Ideas in Adding Machine.

At least two novel features are embodied in the construction of a new adding machine described in the Popular Mechanics Magazine. Most remarkable, perhaps, is the facility and safety with which it may be taken apart, in spite of its complex nature, a pair of pliers and a penknife being the only tools necessary. The operation of greatest value, however, is the machine's ability to subtract as easily as it adds. This is made possible by a simple reversing lever which causes the adding wheels to run backward.

Fish Knows Dinner Call.

Visitors to Bath are interested in a huge golden carp that has been trained by Mr. W. Page to answer a dinner call. As soon as Mr. Page disturbs the surface of the water in the Roman bath with his stick the fish darts to him and remains motionless near the surface ready to snap at ants' eggs, dead flies and other dainties.

The fish also takes food fearlessly from the trainer's fingers—London Mail.

NEWSPAPER OF THE FUTURE

Tickers to Replace Presses Under Visualized Plan Which Seems to Be Quite Possible.

The newspaper office of the future—one without presses, typesetting machines, casting boxes or other costly and complicated machines used today in newspaper production—such is the office visualized by Oscar Roosen, vice president of R. Hoe & Son, press builders. In a letter to the Brooklyn Eagle recently, Mr. Roosen gives his idea of the possibility of the newspaper office of tomorrow.

"No press room," he writes, "but a large room filled with telegraph instruments and operators, each instrument connected with thousands of wires forming a cable running underground to the houses of all subscribers, a bulletin board in the home of every subscriber with a stock ticker printing arrangement connected by a wire with the main instrument in the publication office."

Later Patti went to St. Petersburg. They strewed the stage with roses and camellias for her to walk on, and gave her diamonds and pearls in caskets. I remember her showing me a little Russian ring. It was a stave of gold, and on it were the notes in diamonds, la, do, re—L'Adore. A charming idea.

And the round of deception would begin again—London Mail.

EXPLAINS CAUSE OF COLDS

Lowered Vitality, Due to Many Conditions, Frequently Responsible for Annoying Ailment.

Colds are caught by a combination of two conditions, first, the presence of certain germs in the nose and throat, and second, by a change in the blood supply to the membrane of these parts.

Rossbach found by experiments on rabbits that chilling the outside of the body drives the blood inwards, causing congestion of the air passages.

Recently some authorities have demonstrated a lack of circulation in the nasal passage produced by chilling. The final effect, however, seems to be the same whether the condition is congestion or bloodlessness.

In a perfectly healthy person these exercises are controlled sufficiently by vasomotor action of the blood vessels to prevent injury to the membrane. If, however, the action of the blood vessels is not up to normal, these conditions may continue till the membrane is injured by inflammation so that it loses its restance and even the germs commonly present obtain a foothold. This subnormal action of the vasomotor system is caused by chronic catarrh, adenoids, enlarged tonsils, nasal obstructions, general nervousness, indigestion, lack of exercise or proper rest, in fact anything which lowers the general vitality or the local vitality of the membrane.

Stolen Fruit.

In how many things is each day like its predecessor? And in how many things are this year's days like the days of ten years ago—or longer?

Just think of this in your own routine and habits. Then, if you wish to have an interesting experience, see in how many ways you could change this monotony and sameness without disadvantage and with positive advantage in many cases—and then make the change.

True, it will come almost as a shock, the realization that many confirmed habits, customs, viewpoints have been and are time wasted, strength wasted, money wasted, useless and needless drains and strains. And if you are sincere and determined in the conversion of your mode of life in the daily little things, you will be astonished to find that some of your most cherished customs are the most unreasonable.

The discipline of changing will be good; the resulting saving of time will be better.—Exchange.

Dry-Time Atrocity.

A tale of woe, with Sir Arthur Shirley Benn, head of the British trade mission, was told at a dinner at New York. Sir Arthur, when he arrived in the United States, brought his own supply with him—in a golf bag. Recently the supply was exhausted—all save a half-bottle of real stuff. Calling in some of his fellow delegates, Sir Arthur proposed a final drink. Glasses were filled, the bottle was emptied and a toast was proposed. Sir Arthur likes water in his. And at some of the American hotels where he had stopped they have cut little taps stuck into the wall or into the washbowl from which water flows when the button is pressed. This was the last drink and Sir Arthur wanted to be careful. So he pressed the button carefully. Then he tried to down his drink. He didn't; he had made a mistake. Instead of the ice water tap he had used a tap that yielded liquid soap.

INDIAN PAGEANT

DOG SHOW AT CHESTNUT HILL

Under the smiling sun, an Indian and Pilgrim Pageant was given last Saturday afternoon in "Jolly's Hollow" for the benefit of the Jewett Repertory Theatre Fund.

The pageant which was arranged by Miss Hazel Rowland Sands opened with a song, "To the Rising Sun," of the Zuni Indians, sung by Mr. Herbert Wellington Smith. This was followed by an Indian Sun Song and Dance. Pocahontas (Ruth Allen) then danced an Indian dance with the "abandon" of the race which so fascinated the little Puritan maid that soon we see them joining in.

At the close of the dance Indian and Puritan maid mingle in most friendly fashion, the Indians teaching their white sisters how to make baskets.

At this point Chibabos, "the sweetest of sweet singers" sings a passionate love song. Mr. Herbert W. Smith as Chibabos lived up to his reputation.

In Part I, ended with a "deer dance" on the part of the Indians.

In Act 2, Captain John Smith is brought in and the story of his capture told. The Indians attempt to kill him, but Pocahontas, true to History, intervenes and saves him.

Part II begins with a group of Puritans, the men with guns over their shoulders proceeding the women in order to protect them from savages, singing on their way to church. This peaceful scene is interrupted by wild cries, the Indians having captured David Mullins and his sister, Priscilla (Janet Fay). The Puritans at once parley with the Indians for their release but in vain. The Indians decide upon war, and a very realistic war dance follows with all the pain and pomp characteristic of the Indian.

After an imaginary battle-off stage—the defeated Indians return dejected and accept a ransom for the captured children. Powhatan and the white chief smoke the pipe of peace and Indian and Puritans depart in peace.

In such brief is the story as depicted on Saturday in the beautiful setting of "Jolly Hollow."

Much praise is due to Mrs. Edward Savage, who had charge of the affair, and to Miss Sands for her artistic arrangement of the dances, and to Miss Allen for her clever dancing. The Deer dance was taken directly from the Rogue River Indians and the war dances from the Cheyenne tribe. Both were admirably executed. Mr. Smith's singing, and the work of the chorus directed by Mr. Ray Farnsworth added much to the scene. The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Horace Walton deserves also to be mentioned for its effective rendering of the Indian music.

The large audience testified to the interest in the work of the Jewett Players who are too well known to need comment here.

EDITORIAL

The plaintive query of Mr. Charles F. Avery asking if a "lone tax payer" could speak at the aldermanic hearings on the matter of establishing Junior High Schools in this city, will find an echo in the minds of many of our citizens, especially next fall, when the tax bills for the present year are to be paid.

It is easy enough for a man who pays only a poll tax to inform the aldermen that Newton doesn't need to mind the cost as was the case with one speaker on Monday night, but it is a different matter to the men and women who pay the bills.

Immediate relief from present congestion can be obtained by a larger use of the portable school house—a plan which is practical as well as feasible in a city like Newton, notwithstanding the objections of Senator Weston on account of fire risk. All our schools have ample grounds on which portable buildings can be placed and there is slight danger in one-story buildings with ample exits.

Relief can also be afforded for the present by dividing the High Schools into morning and afternoon sessions, part of the children being taught in the morning and part in the afternoon.

The city is in financial condition and the times are not at all favorable to the expenditure of large sums of money for new buildings and for increasing the cost of our already expensive school plant. We believe the taxpayers expect the city government to "mark time" for a while in making appropriations for new enterprises of any kind.

It is a trifle singular, to say the least that exactly similar editorials appeared in two of the Newton papers of last week strongly condemning the action of the Legislature in creating a recess committee to act upon the codification of the laws of the State. We explained this matter quite fully in our last issue, showing that the work was a necessity, and that the editor did not approve of the lump payment of $1,000, to each member of the committee, believing that payment should be based on the actual time given the work. It is only fair to Representative Early to say that he voted against the creation of the committee on a voice vote and both Mr. Early and the editor voted in favor of an amendment presented by Representative Rice reducing the appropriation for compensation of members of the committee, and which was defeated.

The ticket of Harding and Coolidge is one which we believe will grow stronger and stronger as election day approaches and which will be victorious in November by a heavy margin. We in New England, know and appreciate the sterling qualities of Governor Coolidge and all the information obtainable indicates that in Senator Harding, the party has a man of the highest character and sterling qualities. The real business of the voters of the country is to repudiate President Wilson, his heirs and assigns, and we feel certain that in Harding and Coolidge, the Republican party has nominated a ticket which will give the voters that opportunity.

The discontinuance of business by the Wauwinet Farm marks the passing away of a business which has always reflected credit upon the city of Newton, as well as upon its owner, ex-senator George H. Ellis. The business was always conducted upon a high plane in which quality and service vied with each other for supremacy.

SENATOR WEEKS' OPINION

Newton Highlands

Postal District No. 61

Invention city there is a rumor born every minute. I suggest this because it has been currently reported that a Senatorial cabal, or the Old Guard, or some other group of men were instrumental in bringing about the final result. Having attended several national conventions, I think I can say without reservation that there has never since the organization of the Republican Party been a convention so little controlled by any one or any group of men. In other words, it was unbossed; and in the processes which followed the preliminaries an honest attempt was made by the friends of the three leading candidates to nominate their man. A deadlock was reached in the convention, and it became apparent to every one that it was impossible to put General Wood, Governor Lowden, or Senator Johnson over. The natural thing was to turn to the next most prominent candidate. This was done, and the result was the nomination of Senator Harding. I can deny with every degree of emphasis that any other agency had any material effect on the Convention proceedings.

You have particularly asked me about Senator Harding, whom I have known intimately for years, having served with him in the Senate four years of that time. It is easy to indulge in superlatives in referring to political candidates or to one's friends, but there is no necessity for doing it in his case. He is not a superman, but is a normal every-day man who speaks the language of the average American citizen. No man in public life has had a more exemplary career. He has gone through the processes which we like to believe are the natural and possible ones through which an American boy born in comparative obscurity may finally reach the highest place in our national life. He has done so without being smirched in any way. I have never heard anyone utter a syllable against his character; and I do not believe it would be possible truthfully to do so.

His integrity, his ability, and his high character have always commanded my admiration and respect, and more than that, for him I have a sincere affection. Of course, I do not agree with everything that he has ever said or done. All men make mistakes, but Senator Harding's public acts have always been the result of careful thought, consideration, and his own honest and best judgment. That will be his manner of procedure when he reaches the Presidency.

I have heard it suggested that his name is not connected with any great public measure. That is true, and equally true of many men who have been eminent in our public service. But he has been a hard-working, never-tiring Senator in his efforts to serve his country. He is the type of man who takes his job seriously, but does not take himself too seriously. He will turn his head, while he has reasonable confidence in his own judgment and his own opinions, he has not reached that extreme pinnacle of intellectuality where he believes that he is infallible. He will surround himself with the best available advisers, and his administration instead of being a personal one will be governed by law, precedent, and common sense. No one need fear that he will not be alive to every human desire which appeals to reason. Every such condition will have his careful consideration, and his conclusion will be his honest judgment based on the facts which may be presented.

I hope every citizen of this city and this Commonwealth will take the time, as every one should do, to carefully examine the record of this man, what he has said, and how he has acted. If they will do this without prejudice, they cannot come to any other conclusion than my own—that Senator Harding will grow as the campaign advances; that the better he is known the better he will be liked; that he will inspire confidence and compel admiration; and that the conclusion of every fair-minded citizen will be that he should be the next President of the United States.

It is not necessary for me to make any comment on Governor Coolidge, whose record is so well known to all Massachusetts citizens.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN W. WEEKS.

READ FUND PICNIC

It is the duty of the Trustees of the Read Fund to spend not more than $400 a year for a picnic for the children in Newton Corner.

When Mr. Read made his will more than 35 years ago, there were far less children in Newton corner than there are today and $400 would then buy much more of a picnic than it can buy today. In fact, it will cost so much this year to pay for trolley car fares and admissions to Norumbega Park, where the picnic has been held in recent years that there wouldn't be much left for the sandwiches, ice cream and lemonade, which is the most important part of a picnic.

The Trustees are sorry but they have no choice. There is no longer enough money to pay trolley fares and have anything left for any kind of a picnic.

So instead of going to Norumbega Park, the picnic this year will be held on the splendid new Burr playground in Newton Corner. Mr. Hermann, the Playground Director will be in charge and all his assistants will help. There will be games, with prizes for the older children, folk dances for the younger ones, perhaps a simple pageant, followed by refreshments and an entertainment for all.

Instead of holding this outing at the beginning of the summer vacation, it has been thought best to defer it until near the end of the vacation period partly so that the equipment of the Burr Playground can be completed and more especially so that the children using the Burr Playground during the summer can have this exhibition to look forward to and to work for. Plenty of notice will be given thru the Playground supervisors and in other ways so that nobody will miss it.

Survey research work in Mesopotamia has revealed the fact that in former times the country was covered with a network of canals, showing that a very celebrated system of irrigation must then have been in vogue. Some of these canals were 20 feet deep with steep embankments. This interesting information was stated by Lieut. Col. G. A. Beazley, royal engineers, in a lecture given by him at the British Royal Geographical Society recently. He also brought to light the fact that the city of Samarah, which is now a comparatively unimportant town, at a period before the Christian era must have been one of the most populous trading centers of the East. The ancient city was 20 miles in length and 2 1/2 miles in width, and it is estimated that it contained about 4,000,000 inhabitants. There were miles of walls and warehouses, and it formed a converging point for caravans from a vast area. Another city in Mesopotamia, the lecturer said, showed traces of having been laid out on the lines of a modern American city.

DOES WELL WITH ONE ARM

Englishman Apparently Little Inconvenienced by the Loss of His Right "Wing."

Apropos our recent photograph on feats performed by armless men, a contributor, who lost his right arm when he was a youth, sends an interesting account of the ingenious manner in which he carries on in spite of his handicap.

"I get up at seven o'clock," he says, "wash, shave, scrub my finger-nails by holding a small nail-brush between my teeth, and dress myself without any help. To fill a pipe and strike a match is an easy matter, while years ago I learned to write with my left hand.

"I often play whist, and can place my cards together as quickly as anyone. But I find my chief delight and enjoyment in playing the piano or organ. I love both. I do not play with my left hand only, but play the lower notes with a stick in my mouth.

"I can open a boiled egg and eat it as quickly as anyone with their two hands, while in regard to wrapping up a parcel and securing the same with string, I challenge any grocer to do the job more neatly.

"Feeling an apple is quite simple. I can open a penknife in an instant.

"No one need despair who has lost one of their arms. It is awkward at first, but after a few weeks it is surprising what one can do for themselves. So to all who have lost an arm I say: 'Cheerio! It might have been worse!'"—London Tit-Bits.

WENT TO HEAVEN IN AUTO

Novelty in Burning of Effigy of Machine at the Grave of Wealthy Chinaman.

It is the custom of the Chinese to burn various kinds of effigies at the funeral ceremonies of the rich, and the more wealthy the departed the more elaborate the figures burned over his grave. These effigies represent every manner of thing, such as human figures, horses, sedan chairs, tables loaded with money, etc.

At the funeral of a Mr. Li, who died a short time ago in Tientsin, and who was a very wealthy man, the bereaved family outdid themselves, and made an imitation of the deceased gentleman's automobile, to be burned at his grave. The effigy was made entirely of strong Chinese paper stretched on bamboo frames. The car was complete in every detail, the pedals accurately placed, and all made of paper and bamboo.

The interior of the car was also accurate in detail, being carefully upholstered in paper. The car was carried about three miles through crowded streets to the graveside, where a match was applied, and it was consumed in a few minutes.

Ancient Mesopotamia.

Survey research work in Mesopotamia has revealed the fact that in former times the country was covered with a network of canals, showing that a very celebrated system of irrigation must then have been in vogue. Some of these canals were 20 feet deep with steep embankments. This interesting information was stated by Lieut. Col. G. A. Beazley, royal engineers, in a lecture given by him at the British Royal Geographical Society recently. He also brought to light the fact that the city of Samarah, which is now a comparatively unimportant town, at a period before the Christian era must have been one of the most populous trading centers of the East. The ancient city was 20 miles in length and 2 1/2 miles in width, and it is estimated that it contained about 4,000,000 inhabitants. There were miles of walls and warehouses, and it formed a converging point for caravans from a vast area. Another city in Mesopotamia, the lecturer said, showed traces of having been laid out on the lines of a modern American city.

MINSTREL SHOW

The Girl Scouts of West Newton gave a spirited minstrel show last Friday night in the First Unitarian Church. Every seat was taken and numbers of the young people were standing.

The Minstrel Show itself occupied Part 1 in which forty-five Scouts took part. The singing was excellent and the Interlocutor and the End Men aided by the End-Girls brought down the house. The Monkeys and Daisy also deserves more than a word of praise for their acting. The make-up of several of the girls was so good that their friends in the audience did not know them.

Part 2 contained several numbers, the first being selections by the orchestra ably led by Miss Mary Sprague. The "Intermezzo" from "Tales of Hoffman" was especially well done.

The second number was a song
"Over the Garden Wall," sung by Eleanor Gile and illustrated by a group of scouts who appeared at the right moment. "Over the Garden Wall."

A Drill followed this number in which the scouts carried themselves with true military bearing.

The fourth number was a song called
"The Big Banshee," sung by Miss Marion Clapp and cleverly illustrated by Anna Richardson and Miss Theodora Albee. The antics of the "Big Banshee," who was a terror-striking object, brought forth shrieks of laughter from the younger members of the audience.

The fifth number, selections by the drum and bugle corps, the members being taken from all of the troops, was very well done and showed careful practice. Miss Donovan made a good drum major.

The program concluded with the singing of the Scout Songs and Taps.
Much credit is due to Miss Caroline Freeman, Mrs. Walton S. Redfield and Miss Mary Sprague for their coaching.

Those who took part were: Ethel Laughlin, Katherine Tower, Dorothy Cowling, Katherine Rich, Katherine
Woods, Darthea Bryant, Barbara
Bryant, Virginia Newhall, Irma Welsch, Eleanor Hartell, Edith Nordstrom, Cornelia Moynihan, Eleanor Moynihan, ews, and Anna Richardson.

Great credit is due to Lieut.
Redfield, who presided at the piano; to Lieut. Hall, who had charge of tickets and to the ushers, Lieutenant Sprague and Lieutenant Newhall.

Green of the Coast Artillery Corps,
United States Army, and Miss Mabel
H. Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Christopher F. Whitney of Central avenue, Newtonville, took place Saturday.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Gooding, D. D., of the Unitarian Church at Portsmouth,
N. H. The bride wore a draped gown of white satin, with the bodice and sleeves of white Georgette and with a bertha of rose point lace, which is an heirloom in the bridegroom's family.
Her tulle veil had been worn by her elder sister, Mrs. B. F. King (Helen Whitney) of Brookline, at her marriage. Only the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom were present. After a wedding journey through the White Mountains, Captain and Mrs. Green will leave for his new post at Fort Barrancas, Pensacola, Florida.

HARDING

(Frank A. Munsey in the Sun and New York Herald)

The picture I had of Senator Harding a week ago is not the picture I have of him, now that I have come to know him better.

Following him all the way up from the farm, through childhood, young manhood; seeing him as a printer at the case after he had finished his education; seeing him as the venturesome young editor-owner of a small country newspaper—daring to put himself to the test in one of the most difficult of all fields of endeavor and winning success; seeing that small country newspaper grow under his wise and vigorous handling into a prosperous and influential journal that has made him financially independent; seeing him as a senator in the Legislature of Ohio; seeing him as Lieutenant governor of his State and then as United States senator from Ohio, and now as the candidate of the Republican party for the presidency—the highest honor a party can bestow on a man—all this spells something, means something. Men do not pick up records of this sort in the street. They do not come by accident.
There is merit in the man who achieves as Senator Harding has achieved.

Senator Harding is not a genius. If he were a genius he wouldn't be level headed. Geniuses are never level headed. He is, however, better than a genius for an administrative job, because he is a practical man of common sense.

So far Senator Harding has not started the world by anything he has done or said in the United States Senate.
He has made a fine record in that body as a sound, safe man, who thinks well, talks well and has the courage of his convictions. As a matter of fact, Senator Harding has taken quite as conscientious a place in the United States Senate as any man well can take in his first term in that body. The senator who projects himself into the foreground and essay to be a leader and a maker of public opinion in his first term, as a rule talks to empty benches and strews stumbling blocks in his own path.

An examination of Senator Harding's work in committee and on the floor and an examination of his speeches and general bearing as a first term senator show admirably in his favor.

As a sound, clean, human man, Senator Harding, like McKinley, looks large. We could welcome such a man in the White House again. With Harding as President that historic mansion would open wide its doors, let in the sunlight and bid welcome to the world.

No "Garage" for Him.

Edwin had seen a cemetery where there were many mansions. One day he said to his mother: "When I die, I don't want to be buried in one of these garages in the cemetery."

The Edison Electric

To Tire Mileage

A Boston tire dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Blow-outs have been eliminated.

Uniform mileage has been accomplished.

Only six tires in 1,000 come back for adjustment—only five Miller Cords in a year.

A Louisville dealer compared wear and mileage on 116 styles of tires which he repaired. The constant Miller supremacy has caused him now to handle the Miller Tires only.

A California stage line made million-mile comparisons with 21 leading makes. And the Miller won by long odds.

You owe yourself a comparison on your own car. The Miller is the tire of the day.

DEATH OF MR. HATCH

Mr. Edward Palmer Hatch, a resident of this city for over thirty years, died suddenly on Sunday morning at his home on Mill street, Newtonville, after brief illness with pneumonia. His death was a great surprise and shock to his many friends in this city.

Mr. Hatch was the son of James and Sophronia Hatch, both from old and patriotic New England families. He was born at Vineyard Haven, on Oct. 7, 1862. He lived at Milton from 1882 to 1888, and married there Miss Jane Emerson, who died in 1911.

Mr. Hatch in 1888 became cashier of the First National Bank of West Newton and later its president, resigning to become president of the Freeman's National Bank of Boston, which later merged with the National Bank of the Republic, of which he was made vice president. After the merger of the latter institution with the National Shawmut Bank, Mr. Hatch became president of the Lincoln Trust Company (now the International Trust Company), resigning on account of ill health, in 1913. Later on, with recovered health, he became treasurer of the R. H. Hinkley Company, book publishers, and the Boston representative of the Grolier Society, continuing as such to the time of his death.

Mr. Hatch took an active part in the civic and business affairs of Newton. He had been a trustee of the West Newton Savings Bank, an original member and organizer of St. John's Episcopal Church at Newtonville, of which he was treasurer for many years; originator and former president of the National Bank Cashiers' Association of Massachusetts; member of the common council of Newton in 1893, and of the board of aldermen in 1912-13, and he was a member of the Newton Club, a life member of the Boston Y. M. C. U., a member of the Royal Arcanum, American Legion of Honor and Sons of Martha's Vineyard.

He always was greatly interested in Masonry, and was an honorary member of Dalhousie Lodge, Newton Royal Arch Chapter and Gethsemane Commandery, K. T., all of Newtonville, and had taken all the Scottish rite degrees to the 32nd degree. He had served Gethsemane Commandery in all the offices to generalissimo at the time of his illness in 1913, and was high priest of Newton Royal Arch Chapter in 1899. He was appointed grand captain of the host of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Massachusetts in 1909, and served three years. He was elected grand treasurer in 1912 and resigned in 1913 on account of his health. He rendered distinguished service to the craft in Newton in connection with the financial affairs of the Masonic Temple, and served many years as treasurer of the Newton Masonic Hall Association.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Isabelle Jackson Hatch, and two step-daughters, Miss Adele Hatch and Miss Frances Hatch. The funeral services held Tuesday afternoon at his late home on Mill street were attended by a large number of relatives and friends and testified to their regard by a profusion of beautiful flowers.

Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, officiated and was assisted by Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's Church of Newtonville, Miss Gladys Avery and Mr. Elisha L. Avery sang "Lead, Kindly Light," "Hark, Hark, My Soul," and "Abide With Me." The burial was in the Newton Cemetery. The honorary pall bearers were Messrs. Charles D. Burrage, Philip Spaulding, Albert P. Carter, Willard C. Warren, Roland F. Gammons and Henry C. French.

CONTROL LEAFHOPPERS

Leafhoppers, which are becoming so serious in this section, can be controlled, and should be immediately, or else there will be a worse scourge than anything which the fruit and vegetable grower has yet had to contend with.

Professor P. J. Parrott, entomologist at the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, New York has been conducting some experiments during the past year for the purpose of finding the best materials and formulas for the control of this trouble. Professor Parrott suggests the following formulas:

1. Black Loaf 40, three-quarter pint; soap, 5 pounds; water, 100 gallons.

2. Lime-sulphur-solution 2½ gallons; water, 100 gallons; Black Loaf, 40, 1 pint.

3. Copper sulphate, 2 pounds; lime, 30 to 40 pounds; Black Loaf 40, 1 pint; water, 100 gallons.

4. Copper sulphate 2 pounds, lime 2 pounds, clay 30 to 30 pounds, water 100 gallons.

Let's see to it that each and every one in Middlesex County starts in to get this pest under control before it becomes serious. The county horticultural agent cannot emphasize too strongly the likely seriousness of this pest.

Leafhoppers at present are a greenish-yellow colored insect to be found on the under surface of the foliage. Most of the hoppers at present are not of the winged stage. It, therefore, makes it easier to spray at the present time than it will later, when many of the insects will be in the winged form and as soon as one starts spraying they will take to the air and it will be necessary to spray the air adjacent to the tree in order to envelop the insects with the spray mist.

These insects suck the juices from within the leaves by inserting their long beaks through the under surface of the leaf. The upper surface of the foliage shows a whitened effect because of the large amount of food-stuff within the leaf which has been removed. The larger share of this seriously injured foliage will drop. It is perfectly possible for the insects to kill plants, and in all cases a serious infestation will lower the vitality of the plants. Last year apples dropped prematurely from trees which were seriously infected with the leafhoppers.

ON DUTY, AS EVER

Ex-Sergeant Merely in Another Line of Trenches.

In Fact, One-Time Commander Thought Him More Valuable in Civil Life Than During the Hot Days in France.

At breakfast that morning, says a contributor to London Punch, Joyce had announced firmly that if I really loved her I would take the pattern up to town with me and "see what I could do." What she failed to realize was that, if I ventured alone into the midst of so intimate feminine a world as Bibby &amp; Remond's for the purpose of matching stuff called pink georgette, I should become virtually incapable of doing anything at all.

The only redeeming feature about the whole nerve-racking business was that he found me as soon as he did. "Good afternoon, sir!" he said in a most ingratiating voice. "What can we have the pleasure of showing you, sir?"

He was tall and handsome, with a perfectly waxed mustache and a faultless frock coat. He bowed before me with a solicitous curve to his broad shoulders, and the way he massaged one hand with the other had a highly soothing effect.

"Pink georgette, sir? Certainly, sir!" To my inexpressible relief, he seemed to consider it the most likely in the world.

"Miss Robinson!" he called; "pink georgette."

With a polite wave of the hand, he motioned me toward the lady. He hovered about while I opened the bit of tissue paper containing the pattern and murmured my needs to Miss Robinson. His very presence gave me confidence.

When it was all over, he came up and led me away. As we emerged into the stronger light near the door I peered at him closely. Then I touched him on the arm and beckoned him behind a couple of Paris models.

I took hold of his hand and wrung it fervently.

"Sergt. Steel," I said, "you always did have the knack of being in the right spot at the right moment. I have not set eyes on you since that hot day in 1916, when you brought up the remnants of 14 platoon and pulled me out of that tight corner at Guillemont. That was a valuable bit of work, sergeant, but nothing to this—simply nothing!"

The solicitous curve had straightened out from his broad shoulders. His hands had ceased their soothing massage. His heels were together, his arms glued to his sides, his eyes glaring at a fixed point directly over the top of my head.

"Thought it was you, sir, as soon as I saw you. But of course I wasn't going to say anything till you did." It was not the ingratiating voice now, but that rasping half-whisper he always used for nocturnal conferences in the front line. "Never heard anything of you, sir, since you went down with a blighty after Guillemont. Beg your pardon, sir, but you looked a bit windy as you came in just now, so I thought I'd keep in support.... Yes, sir, got my ticket last month—only been back on my old job a fortnight."

I tapped the parcel that Miss Robinson's own fair hands had made up for me.

"This is a good issue, sergeant?" I asked. "Sound, reliable, and all that?"

"Couldn't be better, sir. I had my eye on her. We only drew it ourselves lately. That's the stuff to give 'em.... a perfect match... exquisite blending of color.... those art shades are to be very fashionable this season, I assure you, sir."

Inperceptibly his hands had resumed their message, the solicitous curve had returned to his broad shoulders, his voice was ingratiating again.

"We have a large range of all daintiest materials. I believe our charmeuse, nuns and crepe de chine to be unrivaled, sir. A little damp underfoot to-day, sir, but warmer—much warmer. Yes, sir! Thank you, sir! Good day, sir!"

And Sergt. Steel (D. C. M. and four chevrons) bowed me into the street.

Huns Have a Town Crier.

The officers of the regiment have nothing on the burgomaster of Polch when it comes to having a striker. The only difference is that he is a clanger, for he rings the bell to announce new tidings to the populace. For instance, if the square-heads are not on the square with Americans and a fine is imposed, the tidings of Heine's hard luck must be published broadcast. So the chief mogul of Polch crooks his finger and explains the mission to the bell ringer, who in turn goes to each street corner announcing that Herr Hasseneffler has been fined 200 marks for not having the outside door unlocked. All this time the bell plays a changing accompaniment. — Barrage, Polch, Germany.

Noisy Wedding.

At one of the Canadian army camps there was a cowboy wedding lately, and enough cowboy gear—radiant shirts and neckwear with the inevitable sheepskin "trews," not to mention the six-shooters—could be found to rig out an escorting band which would not have disgraced the Wild West. After the ceremony the cowboys, who were all suitably mounted on untamable bucking mustangs and broncos, gave vent to fearsome yells, and wildly escorted the happy pair to the noisiest wedding on record.

Peculiar Experience of American Musical Comedy Company in the City of Vladivostok.

At Doumont, France, Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Rouen and former bishop of Verdun, blessed the historic Tranchee des Fusils, "The Trenches of the Rifles," September 14. The ceremony occurred in the presence of General Valentin, commander of the forts and heights of the Meuse; of M. Robin, mayor of Verdun, and a delegation of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh regiment, according to Current History, New York Times.

The Trench of the Rifles lies behind a humble wooden cross erected near Doumont, which is a shapeless mass of splintered rock, of barbed wire writhing as if in torment, of nameless litter, through which poppy and bramble tried to thrust upward during the summer. This cross overlooks the bloodiest battle field of the war. It was erected by men of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh regiment because close by their dead comrades are still mounting guard—there in the Tranchee des Fusils.

It was a small episode amidst a cataclysm and soon over. In Indian file the men of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh crept forth to mount guard, rifle on shoulder, bayonets fixed; there came a sudden, thunderous boom; the earth shuddered and cracked open, closed again, and swallowed up all. Thrusting above the ground, aligned as on that last march down the narrow trench that led to death, the bayonets of the section rise a bare six inches. It was this Trench of Rifles, and the dead heroes, still mounting guard below, that the cardinal blessed.

LAW AS TO COLOR BLINDNESS

Does Not Mean Loss of Sight, According to Ruling Made by Georgia Superior Court.

Color blindness does not mean total loss of sight in the meaning of the law. It was held recently by Judge John T. Pendleton in the motion division of Superior court at Atlanta, Ga.

Judge Pendleton's decision cleared a legal point raised only once before in the United States, so far as is shown by court records. This was in Nebraska, where both the lower court and the State Supreme court held that color blindness means total blindness.

The question was raised in a suit brought by George L. Fallin, who was a locomotive engineer for the Atlanta Joint Terminal, against the Locomotive Engineer Mutual Insurance and Accident association, a branch of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Engineer Fallin, it was set out, became color blind while engaged in his line of duty and was discharged from his position. He then applied to the engineers' association for his insurance—$1,500—for the loss of his eyesight, as stipulated in the policy. The association, however, declined to pay the amount on the ground that color blindness did not come within the terms of the policy concerning blindness.

Fallin then brought suit in the courts through his counsel, City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Chinaman and His Queue.

On April 16, at what was once the village of Fampoux, I met a Chinese who was trying to grow a queue. It was only about a foot long and did not improve his appearance any. That day while out in the fields salvaging ammunition, his nose told him he was in the vicinity of some unsuccessfully buried foreigners. He was hardened by this time to all sorts of disagreeable things, but the incident went to the back of his head and only served to strengthen his belief that he should grow a queue. Foreigners wear their hair cut short. He had been in France going on two years and had long since concluded that he did not want to imitate them. Hence the queue.—World's Work.

Dantzig Rich in Memories.

The old fortress of Dantzig is rich in Napoleonic lore. It was here that the man of destiny failed to heed the intimations of a grand council of his marshals—Murat, Ney and the rest—that his star had passed perihelion; it was here that he upbraided them for having grown soft in prosperity, and for opposing the invasion of Russia; it was from Dantzig that his legions "jumped off" for the ill-fated Moscow campaign.

In a later day Dantzig was the background and base for the northern shear of Mackensen's gray-green plinths.

The Gridiron.

"But you have no field of honor in this country," said the French visitor. "Oh, yes, we have," replied the American citizen.

"Out?"

"Out, out. We have a field of honor with two goal posts at each end, and our husky young Americans take a delight in plowing it with their noses."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Her View.

Edith—I hear that Helen is to marry a rich man fifty years of age.

Agnes—How foolish! He is twenty-five years too old and twenty-five years too young.—Boston Transcript.

Isn't it the Truth?

When a woman asks you to be engaged she expects you to be complimentary, just the same.—Boston Transcript.

GAVE "SHOW" UNDER GUARD

Peculiar Experience of American Musical Comedy Company in the City of Vladivostok.

A belated story of how an American musical comedy company which had volunteered to give an entertainment for the troops at Vladivostok was caught in that city while the "reds" held sway, has been received by the Knights of Columbus from Garry McGarry, who is in charge of the welfare activities of the order in Siberia. The troupe was in charge of W. R. Bandyard and had come from China to the Russian seaport, where they were held up for several weeks awaiting a steamer.

The Trench of the Rifles lies behind a humble wooden cross erected near Doumont, which is a shapeless mass of splintered rock, of barbed wire writhing as if in torment, of nameless litter, through which poppy and bramble tried to thrust upward during the summer. This cross overlooks the bloodiest battle field of the war. It was erected by men of the One Hundred and Thirty-seventh regiment because close by their dead comrades are still mounting guard—there in the Tranchee des Fusils.

During their stay, every one went around with a revolver, and the city took on the appearance of a western "boom" town in pioneer days. During the period the Bolsheviks killed about 22 persons, and many of the actors had narrow escapes. Several of the women actresses had to be taken to and from the theater guarded by a squad of allied soldiers, and at the hotel where they stayed a guard was constantly posted. However, the American troupe "carried on" for the Bolsheviks amid all the panoply of war and revolution. There were armed soldiers inside the theater, outside, behind the scenes, and in the box office. All the audience brought their rifles with them or carried side arms and hand grenades.—Chicago Post.

SCORPION ON BABOON'S MENU

Animal Seems to Consider Insect a Delicacy and Consumes It With Much Relish.

The chacma baboon of South Africa is very partial to certain kinds of animal food—scorpions, spiders, centipedes, insects, lizards and the eggs of wild birds all being eaten with relish.

The scorpion is evidently regarded as a titbit. If one is released near a captive baboon, the latter will hold its hand extended over the prey until a suitable opportunity for attack offers. Then the hand will descend with a sweeping snap, which is followed by a swift, circular, rubbing motion. This dislodges the scorpion, which is then picked up and carefully examined until the sting is located. The latter is then picked out between finger and thumb and thrown away as far as possible, after which the scorpion is muniched with every appearance of satisfaction.—William C. Scully, in Atlantic Monthly.

Harmless Superstitions.

Everybody is superstitious and generally our superstitions are trivial and do no harm. To carry a coin in the pocket for luck; to comment about seeing the moon over the left shoulder; to refuse to walk under a ladder; to believe that it is bad luck to turn back; to make a wish at the appearance of the first star of the evening; to suppose it is not well to break a mirror, which it isn't well to do. But the point is, everybody is superstitious, regardless of what he says about it. He may not really know that he is superstitious; he may be honest in believing that he is not. But the fact remains that superstition was bred into the race away back in the jungle, where little was understood, where importance was attached to the shape of the clouds, where trees and stones and mountains and rivers had a personality—and we can't get it out of the system.

An All-Nations Case.

John Pappas, a Greek, has been arrested on a charge of grand larceny. Habid Heide, a Turk, makes the accusation. Heide had some Russian money, how much he doesn't know. He exchanged it for 100 English sovereigns. An Italian friend introduced him to Pappas, the Greek. A trip through the Botanical gardens was undertaken. During the walk a man who looked like a Swede and who talked like a Swede appeared and assumed the role of hold-up man. Pappas didn't help, said the Turk. Detective Hugerty, an Irishman, arrested the Greek. The preliminary hearing was held next morning before a magistrate who was born in Wales.—New York Times.

Cuba Starts War on Rats.

The Cuban sanitation authorities have undertaken a vigorous campaign against the rat pest to prevent the bubonic plague from entering Cuba. Thousands of traps have been set and every precaution is being taken.

Ships coming from ports under suspicion will not be permitted to unload at the wharves, but must discharge their cargoes by means of lighters or launches while anchored in the harbor, thereby lessening the possibility of plague-carrying rats reaching shore.

Asches Make Good Fertilizers.

The technical authorities for the restoration of France and Belgium announced that they have discovered that furnace ashes from glass, iron and steel works stimulate vegetable growth enormously through carbonic acid fertilization. All plant life is said to be spurred to unusual growth. These ashes may be applied to restoration of the devastated districts.

Royal Railroad Engineer.

There is no cleverer locomotive engineer in Spain than the duke of Sarragossa, a wealthy member of the nobility, who is closely related to the royal family. Since the unrest in Spain has become so accentuated, each time that King Alfonso journeys by train the locomotive is conducted by the duke.

Living Creatures That Are Immortal.

In the Protozoa, as Weismann and others have pointed out, the recuperative processes are so perfect that natural death need never occur; the stable mortal parts of the colloidal substratum can be reduced and restored piece meal, and the creature never grows old. It is probable that the same is true of a simple animal like the freshwater hydra, which may also be credited with immortality.—New York Herald.

PUT IT UP TO GRANDFATHER

Four-Year-Old Kept Her Pennies, While Elderly Relative Was Forced to "Dig Up."

Grandfather is a very dignified, retired minister. But still, with all his dignity he regularly takes his four-year-old granddaughter to Sunday school because he thinks that she should have this religious training while she is yet young.

The other Sunday it was Mary Ellen's fourth birthday and she, after the custom of the school carried with her four pennies to place in the birthday basket. Everything went nicely and the tot went to the front, her little face happy above her Sunday finery. Still smiling she stood in row with the other birthday children and waited while the basket was passed.

When it was taken to the others and she saw them put their pennies into the basket Mary Ellen became distinctly uneasy. She seemed about to flee; then to reconsider and stayed. But when it reached her, instead of dropping her pennies into it as the others had done she held to them very tightly indeed and said: "No, I'm going to keep them myself. If you want any orders you can tell my grandpa up. He had a whole handful this mornin'."

And grandfather, in order to keep his reputation free from having any of the taints of a piker, had to rise from his seat and come forward with four pennies. Then was the amusement of the congregation not only seen but heard as well.—Indianapolis News.

LAST OF GREAT MONOPOLY

Three Million Acres of Hudson's Bay Company's Land to Be Given Over to Farming.

When King Charles II. made a grant of land in America to "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay" he generously turned over to them about three-quarters of North America, an empire which has diminished until now the Hudson's Bay company is selling to settlers the rich acres which it still retained after surrendering its authority over its Canadian holdings to the Dominion government, fifty years ago, for an indemnity of $1,500,000. Little enough did Charles, in 1670, imagine the future history of the trading company he had established; still less could he have pictured the chain of retail department stores in the twentieth century. Over 3,000,000 acres of fertile land, the last substantial fraction of King Charles' grant, is being sold to farmers; and as it has lain uncultivated since the days of the Indians, it is pleasant to think that the farmers will soon be busy on it.

Bits of Secret Far Eastern History.

The after-dinner confidential chat of a British naval officer with a French bluejacket at a Sydney ball in 1853 cost the British empire New Caledonia. Our French friend had for many days cast longing eyes on Captain Cook's discovery of 1794. So had we. But the hint given of our intention to annex enabled our rivals to land and take possession three hours before we came to the scene. Thus we lost not only New Caledonia and the adjacent isles, but the Loyalty group and the New Hebrides; for it is an open secret that the threat of the impossible New Hebrides condominium will soon be cut and France will gather in this gem of the Pacific. It may bring balm to remember that as the French beat us on the post for New Caledonia so we beat them by a nose for Mauritius in almost exactly the same way.—Sydney Bulletin.

Electric Fire Logs.

Electric fire logs which have been used on the stage for several years, are now available for other uses. These fire logs are made of imitation wood, consisting of three or more logs rounded and grouped for interior fireplaces and outdoor campfires. The logs are of translucent material and are made hollow for the insertion of electric bulbs. The bark and cut ends of the logs are artistically designed and hand-painted to give the natural appearance of partially burned logs.

By shading the translucent and opaque parts properly and providing for reflection from below, the logs, when illuminated, glow with the natural bright and darker shading of burning wood logs. The fire logs can also be obtained in the form of a large wood log with imitation ash hearth, for large old-fashioned fireplaces.

Electric Fire Logs.

Several hundred dog exhibitors and spectators crowded the big tent at the bench show of the Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts, at the Woodland Park Hotel grounds yesterday.

The rain prevented many of the contestants entering their dogs as the cold weather, it was feared, would endanger the health of animals, so the record number of almost 600 entries was somewhat reduced.

One of the surprises of the show was the fine appearance of a group of Collie police dogs, year-old animals, bred in America. The Eastnor Kennels of Rhode Island took first prize for dogs and M. G. F. Stocker's Silverwood Sheba won in her class. These new entries for dog shows are in many instances large, strong animals of handsome coloring.

IT'S BETTER TO BE SURE THAN SORRY

Practically every day the newspapers record loss for someone through theft, fire or carelessness. This is particularly noticeable during the summer months when homes are closed because the family has gone on vacation.

Our Safe Deposit Vaults fill the gap between uncertain and assured protection for your Jewelry, Silverware, Heirlooms, important papers and other valuables.

It is better to anticipate and prepare than to delay and regret. We invite you to inspect our fireproof and burglar proof vaults, and to make use of them before you go away this summer. The rates are reasonable—only one dollar a cubic foot.

HOLD LATE SESSION
Aldermen Transact Important Business in Last Meeting Before Summer Vacation

Lengthy hearings and recess meetings combined last Monday night to make the last regular meeting of the aldermen before the summer vacation, one of the longest of the year, adjournment being reached as the clock struck one.

Two of the many hearings on the docket took most of the time early in the session, one being on the matter of electric light poles on Prince street, the other on locating an auxiliary pumping station for the water department on Ward street.

The poles on Prince street were favored by Mr. R. E. Hatch who wishes to use electricity in the house he recently purchased on that street, and by Mr. Henry Whitmore, Messrs. Frank W. Wise and Arthur P. Friend spoke in opposition, and filed a written remonstrance signed by many of the residents on the street. Mr. Wise claimed that Mr. Hatch could obtain electricity from poles in the rear of his land and that there was no need of poles to disfigure the street.

The matter of locating the auxiliary pumping station was divided between a lot of land owned by the Commonwealth Country Club on Ward street, and land owned by Chas. G. Rice on a private way off Ward street. Mr. Fred A. Fernald appeared for the Country Club protesting against taking their land, as it would interfere with the tee for their ninth hole, and also to their plans to move this tee nearer Ward street. Mr. Thomas W. Proctor objected to the plant being placed so near his residence and similar objections were made by Messrs. C. A. Malley, Herbert Parsons, and E. B. Wood. Alderman Clement explained the necessity for the auxiliary plant and said that it was absolutely necessary for it to be located near the main of the Metropolitan water district as well as on the city water mains. The Metropolitan District commission would not approve a connection near Garrison street, and did approve a connection near the land of the Country Club. He also announced that the Public Works committee would give the residents another hearing on June 29th.

Ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore conducted a hearing on the proposed laying out of Hood and Rogers street, so as to make a better approach to the Country Day School and Messrs. S. K. Kerns, M. B. Strohmeier, C. E. Strum, Thos. King, Philip Callan and C. G. DeLong also spoke in favor.

Hearings were also held on electric light poles on Lincoln park, on petition Newton Auto Welding Co. to keep and sell gasoline corner Boylston and Elliot streets, for the CoRo Service station to keep and sell gasoline at 757 Beacon street, on petition of E. T. Ward for a 3-car garage on Highland street, on the laying out of Acacia avenue, and on the widening of Hammond street at South street, at which no one appeared.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of recommendations including $412 for a new auto for Health Dept., $300 additional for office expense of Assessors, favoring acceptance of chapter 332 acts 1920 to pay balance of salary of John F. Cotton to his widow, $4000 for supplies for school dept., and $409.48 for laborer's pension for Luigi De Simone. The mayor also sent in a communication suggesting $400 for plans for proposed new school house at Newtonville, but urging the board to consider the advisability of entering upon a plan to build five new school buildings and to ask legislative authority to raise the money outside the debt limit.

Petitions of Benny Romanno for pool tables at 189 Adams street, of the Telephone Co. for attachments on Lexington street and Farwell street, for Edison and Telephone poles on Cedar street, for Edison attachments on Braeland avenue and for Edison relays on Erie avenue, Hillside road, and Omar terrace, of W. E. Halliday for a two-car garage on Broadway and of G. D. Frost to move building in Centre and Pleasant streets were granted.

Other petitions were received for the widening of Beacon street at Institution avenue, and of Ellen E. Alger and Isabella F. MacFarlane for soldier's relief.

Leave to withdraw was granted on petition of F. J. Zeller for a multiple garage off Washington street, to M. J. Geegan for a taxi cab license, and to the Gulf Refining Co. for an underground tank for gasoline in Washington street sidewalk.

The Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club was granted permit to play tennis on Sunday afternoons.

The Public Buildings committee recommended $4000 for plans for new school on Walnut and Crafts streets, but the Finance committee reported it to be inexpedient, and the Finance committee was sustained, after it had filed a voluminous report.

Land owned by the city on Auburn street in the rear of the Burr school, Auburndale, was approved as a site for a new fire station, and $500 voted for plans for new building.

The Finance committee reported against any money for a new chassis for the Health Dept. ambulance as it is believed a new ambulance should be purchased. $387 was voted for a new auto for this department, however.

Leave to withdraw was granted on the laying out of Charlesbank road on a proposed sewer in Mill street and on request of T. J. McCue for release of easement off Rustic street. $4100 was voted for widening and land damages on Maple street, ward 7, $40,672 for widening and land damages on Walnut street, between Washington street and Page road, and $6260 for land damages on widening of Walnut street, between Austin street and Highland avenue. Hearings were assigned on the laying out of Braes Burn road, and on a proposed sidewalk on Chase street. $5800 was voted for water mains on several streets, street sprinkling ordered on Circuit avenue, a sewer assessment levied on Myrtle street, $522 additional granted for work on Parker street, a storage battery equipment ordered in the city garage, $75 voted for the Classical High lunch room, $4000 for school supplies, $390 for Assessing Dept. office expense, $409.48 for pension for Luigi DeSimone, a widening of Walnut street, was discontinued. $330 voted for drainage of Central avenue, a sewer ordered in Channing road, $1000 voted for supervision of Playgrounds, due to Sunday sports, and provisions made for the state primary on Sept. 7th.

Alderman Forkall made a winning fight against the report "no action necessary" of the Finance Committee on increasing the salary of the Forestry Division, $75 being added to the salary to begin July 1st, by a vote of 12 to 4 with 5 absent. The finance committee was sustained on its report "no action necessary" on increasing the pay of the Inspector of Plumbing and the Paymaster on increasing pay of clerks in City Hall.

The board adjourned to July 26th.

N. H. S.

Friday morning, June 18, the Senior Class held its last regular meeting of the year and after much discussion again, it was decided that the Class Gift should be three large portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt. The school possesses no such things at present and it is certain nothing of better value and lasting quality could have been provided. At this meeting, the last regular rehearsal was held for graduation.

The class were all assigned definite seats, and were directed as to the method of proceeding during the exercises the next day. Later in the morning the Newtonians were given out.

Wednesday, June 18, was also another memorable occasion. At this time when the class was gathered in the hall, Mr. Adams gave his message of appreciation and hope for the future of the Class of 1920. His words were very plain and yet full of meaning, and he seemed to forget those incidents which may have been at the time, a trifle distasteful which have occurred to some of the class and Newton is going to gain another leg.

"Bud" Seavey has finished his scholastic baseball season with a very record. He was awarded the first choice of one of the sport writer's team, as catcher on the All-Interscholastic.

last nine. This honor is indeed very high, but he feels even more proud of the gold baseball he won as a reward for the best all-around playing on his team. This prize was offered by Dr. Bailey, who is a prominent man in the school interests and welfare of athletics in general. Newton's team fell before Somerville in a most poor exhibition of fielding, but one can well make up his mind that sooner or later, good record. He was awarded the first on that Suburban League trophy.

EDITORIAL

The proposition to enter upon a school house building scheme of one or two million dollars should be most carefully considered before definite action is taken. And this consideration ought to be given by a commission composed of our heaviest tax payers and educational experts. The figures presented by the school committee indicated that our present buildings are, or soon will be, insufficient for the number of pupils in the city, and while it is the part of wisdom to anticipate the future, the city should not embark on such a plan as the Junior High School, for instance without full knowledge of all the expense it will involve.

We favor consideration by a commission instead of a referendum to all the voters as suggested by the Finance committee of the aldermen. A referendum of this kind rarely receives the careful consideration it should, for many of the voters pay nothing more than a poll tax and have but little, indeed, if they have any interest in the financial condition of the city. If the aldermen and school committee feel, for any reason that they are unable to reach a logical and sound decision on this matter, by all means, let a commission be created to consider it.

While the widening of Walnut street at Newtonville is a most desirable improvement, it is most unfortunate that it is done when prices of labor and materials are so high and when it is getting increasingly difficult for the city to sell its bonds at any reasonable rate of interest. $60,000 in Street Improvement bonds were recently ordered issued by the aldermen, payable $6000 a year for ten years and this amount is on top of previous issues of similar bonds amounting to $66,000, or a grand total of $126,000 for this class of work. While it is true that a part of this bond issue is for work on betterment streets (where all the cost is returned to the city) it is most unfortunate, as we have said before that it has been deemed necessary to do this work at the present time.

LODGES

Cryptic Council, R. & S. M., worked the Super-Excellent degree last evening in a most impressive manner on a class of 24 candidates.

After the field day, the Elks will go to the Brookline Home, where they will have a banquet and cabaret show.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

160 Presented With Diplomas Last Saturday by Mayor Childs

A class of 160 was graduated last Saturday afternoon at the sixtieth year of the Newton Classical High School at Newtonville.

The program opened with a procession of the senior class, following the national flag. After all were seated, an anthem was sung, followed by prayer by Rev. M. H. Lichliter, pastor of the Central Church of Newtonville, and an impressive response by the class.

The oration which followed was delivered by Chauncey J. Spaulding and dealt with the merchant marine, and the future of the country in maritime affairs. The musical feature of the program were especially interesting. Miss Edith Rice, the pianist and Miss Barbara Smith, the soloist. Both of these members of the class did remarkable work for high school talent. Miss Catherine Chipman, the historian, had an interesting and well written account of the class, utilizing the different events of the four years in a most entertaining manner.

The class ode was written by Walter B. Chadwick with music by Winthrop Whittaker and Miss Phyllis V. Keyes read an original poem.

The valedictory, delivered by Walter Barney Chadwick, discussed the subject of "containment." Mr. Adams, the headmaster, then said a few words regarding the Memorial tablet which was to have been dedicated at this graduation. The delay was due to strikes and labor troubles.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs then made a short address, after which he gave out the diplomas to members of the class.

The scholarship awards were announced by Mr. Adams. The May scholarship at M. I. T. was given to Howard E. Whittaker of Newton Centre and Winthrop Whittaker of Newton Highlands, won a scholarship at Amherst.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club scholarship went to Miss Catherine F. McAndrew of Newton Centre and the Auburndale Woman's Club scholarship to Miss Helen W. Hardy of that village. The Washington and Franklin medal, awarded by the Massachusetts Society, Sons of the American Revolution, to the pupil who excelled in study of United States history, was awarded to Walter B. Chadwick of Newton Upper Falls.

It is an interesting and most unusual fact that two members of this class have received appointments to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Walter B. Chadwick and Donald C. Collier.

The honor roll, arranged in the order of standing was as follows:

NORTHGATE CLUB

Pouring rain and wind could not keep the members of the Northgate Club and their friends away from the club last Thursday evening.

The party originally planned for a lawn party was held indoors on account of the weather. The hall was effectively decorated with red, white, and blue streamers, smilax, and flowering chrub, while waitresses in dainty white dresses and pink hats added to the picture.

Music was furnished by the Bostonian Orchestra, the program being first a concert piece and then a dance. The spirited playing of the orchestra and the fine floor added much to the enjoyment of all present.

During the concert pieces, refreshments were served at the different tables. The party was in charge of Mrs. Herman W. Bergfeld whose general personality made everyone feel at home.

Owing to the success of the evening it was unanimously voted to have another party on the lawn early in July under the same auspices.

The boys of the choir of Grace Church scored a success last Saturday night in Grace Church Parish Hall where they gave Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "Trial by Jury." This is the first time that they have given an operetta and the result was a marked success. The principal characters were taken by the following: Plaintiff, Ralph L. Angier; Defendant, Edward Center; Judge, Royal B. Switzer; Counsel for the Plaintiff, Charles F. Johnson; Foreman of the Jury, D. W. Story; Usher, Stanley R. Pillsbury. Other members of the choir took the parts of bridesmaids and jurymen. The costumes and make-up were very, very effective. They were under the charge of Miss Katherine White. ## EUSTIS—HOMER

A home wedding of interest, which took place in West Newton Saturday, was the marriage of Miss Ruth Emerson Homer to Grant Blessing Eustis, which was at noon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Homer, 248 Mt. Vernon street. Miss Homer was a graduate from Bradford Academy with the class of 1918. The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Eustis of 145 Washington street, Newton, is a Rensselaer Polytechnic man, class of 1920.

The house was decorated for the event with asparagus ferns, for greenery, combined with masses of June garden flowers. Rev. Howard N. Brown, D.D., minister of King's Chapel, officiated and the bride was given in marriage by her father. She had only one attendant, Miss Evelyn Brewer of Cleveland, O., her roommate at Bradford.

The bride wore embroidered Georgette over white satin, and her tulip veil was fastened with a band formed of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of white roses was carried. The maid of honor, Miss Brewer, wore a dress of rose-colored organdy, with a girdle of blue satin. Her bouquet was old-fashioned in character, of blue stock, pink stock and Swainsonia.

Warner Eustis, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. At the reception which followed the ceremony, the ushers were Roderick Blood and Hopewell Underhill, both of Newton Centre. Mr. and Mrs. Eustis are to spend the summer season at Marblehead.

AN ENJOYABLE PUPILS' RECITAL

The annual Pupils' Recital given by the Misses Mae and Mina Cotton, teachers of the piano, occurred on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at the Newton Club.

These earnest young teachers succeed somehow in imparting to their pupils, even to the very little ones, the understanding that music is not merely notes, but an expression of thought or feeling—that unless notes are well played and properly phrased the result is no more music than a jumble of words would be literature. Therefore, it is a pleasure to listen to the playing even of beginners. If among them all (and the class this year is a very large one) there are a few who as yet fail to get beyond the mere notes, that emphasizes all the more the real musical intelligence expressed by the class as a whole.

Each one in turn came readily to the piano, apparently with full confidence in themselves, and in their teachers, and one and all did themselves credit. It was particularly noticeable how gracefully arms and fingers did their work, assuring the onlooker that mechanically also, there was a good foundation laid. The playing of the advanced pupils was a delight, and must have been an incentive to the younger ones to hope that they, too, might some day give so good an account of themselves. A pleasant addition to the program was a group of songs by Mr. Thomas W. Cotton.

Because of the very large number taking part, the program is too long to give.

POLICE NOTES

Tuesday morning in Court, William Zinc, 19 years old, a sailor from the Charlestown Navy Yard, was sentenced to the House of Correction for disturbing the peace at Norumbega Park on Monday. Officer McLoughlin arrested him and the sailor started to put up a fight, but thought better of it. He had been jumping on and off the merry-go-round and making a general disturbance. He appealed the sentence and was released under bonds of $300. The naval authorities will probably take care of the case.

Leo H. Fitzpatrick of the Parker Hill Hospital was returned to the hospital by order of the Court on Tuesday. He was arrested early Sunday morning as a vagrant but an examination shortly afterwards by the police surgeon showed that the young man was suffering from a form of shell shock. The charge of vagrancy was withdrawn and the officers of the hospital notified.

O'CONNELL—FOLEY

Miss Nellie J. Foley, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Foley, was married on Tuesday morning to Mr. Michael W. O'Connell, son of Mrs. Anne O'Connell of Jamaica Plain. The ceremony was performed at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, by the Rev. Fabian O'Connell, brother of the groom, of St. John's Church, Hopkinton, assisted by the Rev. Timothy Curtin, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The bride wore a gown of ivory crepe broche with pearl trimmings and a train, and a veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of Bridal roses with a shower of sweet peas and baby breath. The maid of honor, Miss Katherine F. Foley, sister of the bride, wore a gown of pink organdie and a pink picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink snap-dragon and larkspur and a showed of pink peas.

The best man was Mr. Leo O'Connell, brother of the groom.

The ushers were Mr. Walter E. Hegan of Newton, Mr. John W. Power of Arlington, Mr. John W. Foley of Newton Highlands, and Mr. Joseph J. Holden of Newton Centre.

Seated within the Sanctuary were Rev. Patrick Waters, D. D., Rev. David Waters, Rev. James F. Haney, Rev. Richard Rogers, Rev. Robert Barry, and Rev. Joseph Burke.

The church was beautifully decorated with palms and pink and white peonies. The organ selections were played by Mrs. Myrtle Morse, and the solos were by Mr. Joseph J. Holden.

A reception at Hotel Westminster followed the ceremony at the church, the bride and groom being assisted by their parents.

After a motor tour through the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell will be at home in Brookline after October 1st.

STUDENTS PRESENT PLAY

An entertainment and a two-act play, "On the Quiet," was given by the students of the High School of Our Lady in the school hall on last Tuesday evening. The program consisted of a piano duet by Francis and Joseph Driscoll, vocal solos by Walter Kearns and Paul Ryan and readings by John E. Murphy and John Mahan. Those who took part in the play, which was very well presented, were Edward McCradden, Edward Hickey, John E. Murphy, John J. Murphy, Francis Driscoll, John Vahy, Thomas Ryan, John Hart, Lawrence Lombardi, Lewis Kearns, John Geary and Joseph Akins.

The proceeds were for the fund for the field day which takes place tomorrow on the school grounds.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS SAWYER

Miss Sawyer attended Abbot Academy, and Mr. Kerr served with the 54th Canadian Infantry. He was wounded in the second year of the war, but returned to the front where he was gassed.
